HUERTA'S FRIEND ORDERS SHOOTING

GOVERNOR OF FEDERAL DISTRICT CHARGED WITH ATROCIOUS ACT.

DIRECTED BURNING OF BODY

Government is Shocked Upon Learning Details of Belim Prison Scene. Arrest Made.

Mexico City, March 27.—Enrique Zepeda, governor of the federal district and a close friend of President Huerta, took into his own hands the ridding of the country of its political enemies early today when he directed the shooting of Gabriel Hernandez, ex-commander of the rurales, and then personally supervised the incineration of his body in the garden of Belim prison, where the execution took place.

The government is shocked at Zepeda's act and has removed him from office and imprisoned him in the national palace. Friends of Zepeda offered as an explanation that the governor was not in a responsible condition at the time. Zepeda at the head of mounted police, appeared at the penitentiary in the early morning. He demanded that the warden bring before him Rafael Cepeda, ex-governor of San Luis Potosi; Albert Fuente D., ex-governor of Aguas Calientes, and General Hidalgo, ex-governor of Puebla, and declared his right as governor of the federal district to kill such political prisoners as he wished.

Warden Liciaga refused the demand. Some one informed Zepeda that the ex-commandant of rurales, Major Hernandez, was also a political prisoner in Belim prison.

The order was given to proceed there. Resistance was offered by the officials of Belim to Zepeda's demand for the victim, but the governor threatened to order his police to fire. Hernandez was brought forth and his body was immediately riddled with bullets, according to Liciaga and the other officials, who were forced to witness the act.

Not yet satisfied Zepeda ordered Greenwood piled in the patio, on which the body of Hernandez was placed. Meanwhile Liciaga's son notified the ministers of war and the interior. They at once ordered the arrest of Zepeda.

General Manuel Garcia Cuellar, ex-chief of Mexico City military staff, has been appointed governor of the federal district.

Federal Officers Arrested.

Monterrey, Mex., March 27.—Excitement was caused here tonight by the arrest by federalists of General Gerónimo Trevino, former governor of Nuevo Leon and Colonel Martinez Garcia, who were put aboard a special train and rushed to Mexico City for trial on charges of insubordination. It is reported the arrests followed the refusal of General Trevino to comply with orders from Mexico City for the arrest and execution of prominent men in this state.

A crowd gathered at the depot following the arrest and threatened to take the prisoners from the federal soldiers, but were driven back by the menacing guns of the troops.

FATHER AND SON TO DIE TODAY FOR VIRGINIA MURDER

Richmond, Va., March 27.—Just before he left the city this afternoon for Trenton, N. J., Governor Mann again declined to commute the death sentence of Claude Swanson Allen, who is to be executed at the state penitentiary tomorrow morning with his aged father, Floyd Allen, for their part in the Hillsville courthouse murder on March 14, 1912.

Friends of the Allens made desperate attempts to have the governor extend mercy to the younger prisoner, and they even asked that a commission be appointed to determine the justice of the plea for commutation.

Richard Evelyn Byrd, speaker of the house of delegates, urged the governor to spare Claude Allen's life, and many prominent citizens interceded in his behalf, but without avail.

Under Governor Mann's orders, the gold medal which had been bought for Claude Allen did not begin shooting in the Hillsville county courthouse until he was forced to do so in his father's defense.

Final preparations have been made for the execution, which will take place shortly after 7 o'clock. Floyd Allen, whose nerve is quite unstrung, will go first to the death chair, to be followed in a few minutes by his stalwart son.

Candidates For Mayoralty of New York

CHARLES S. WHITMAN. JOHN PURROY MITCHELL. GEORGE MCANENY.

New York, March 27.—The announcement of District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York county that he will accept a fusion nomination for mayor brings into the contest three candidates, one of whom will likely be picked to oppose the Tammany candidate in the election this fall. They are, besides Mr. Whitman, John Purroy Mitchell, president of the board of aldermen, and George McAneny, president of the borough of Manhattan.

The district attorney, a republican, has made his reputation as his prosecution of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and the four gunmen who killed Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, last July, and the work since in following up graft till there are already under indictment one police inspector, one captain and several policemen, with a prospect of the indictment of three more inspectors.

Mr. Mitchell, a democrat, one of the youngest officials to hold a high position in the city government of New York, would be one of her youngest candidates for mayor. He is a nephew of the late Henry D. Purroy, chief of the county democracy which fought Tammany Hall many years ago. He won his first election as commissioner of accounts under Mayor McClellan. In that position he was given general power of investigation of the city departments and he managed to make it very uncomfortable for many city officials. As a member of the board of estimate, the body which holds the purse strings of the city, he has fought for two years against the letting of the $170,000,000 contract for the construction of subways to the interborough company, which controls the present subway system.

On the other hand, Mr. McAneny, democrat, has been the chief champion of the interborough, along with Mayor Gaynor. He was president of the City club, one of the leading reform organizations, at the time he was elected on the fusion ticket three and a half years ago.

The three men were elected to their present offices as fusion candidates on the two-headed mayoralty ticket led by William R. Hearst and Otto H. Bonnard. It is likely that Hearst, who will be a power in the coming election, would support either Whitman or Mitchell, preferring Mitchell to the district attorney. But he has repudiated McAneny in the strongest terms. Many politicians think it possible Hearst would support the Tammany candidate rather than McAneny in case he were to receive the fusion nomination.

Mississippi is rapidly rising to danger mark.

Memphis, Tenn., March 27.—The Mississippi river at Memphis rose five-tenths of a foot today, the gauge at 7 o'clock tonight showing a stage of 33 feet, two feet below flood stage. Weather bureau predictions are that the danger mark will be reached Saturday.

Hundreds homeless at Portsmouth.

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 27.—The Scioto bridge here was swept away by the tempestuous flood last night. Hundreds of persons have been driven from their homes, school houses have been thrown open to the homeless, and streets are filled with household goods and merchandise in the heart of the city are moving their wares to places of safety in anticipation of flood conditions more serious than ever before.

Wilson finishes tariff message.

Washington, March 27.—President Wilson today finished the message which he will send to the extra session of congress. It is devoted chiefly to the tariff and will be submitted to the cabinet tomorrow.

The president had a long conference with Secretary Redfield at the white house tonight about the tariff. Mr. Redfield's tariff views were often sought by the president during his campaign for election.

Politics got little of the president's time, as he was mostly concerned over the flood situation. He kept in touch over the telephone, however, with the progress of the jury reform measure in the conference committee of the New Jersey legislature, and let it be known that unless jury reforms were obtained he might make an appeal soon to the people of New Jersey to bring pressure to bear on the legislature.

Mr. Wilson accepted a baseball pass from the Washington American league club and agreed to toss the first ball at the opening game.

The president issued the following comment on the senatorial election in Illinois:

"I am much gratified to have the choice of the Democratic voters in the senatorial primaries in Illinois ratified."

Wilson is vaccinated.

Tonight Mr. Wilson was vaccinated as a precaution against smallpox, many cases of which have recently been discovered in the national capital. A relative of a white house domestic was one of the victims. The wife of Representative Denver S. Church of California was taken ill with smallpox today and the family quarantined.

Nuevo Laredo residents flee.

Laredo, Tex., March 27.—Dr. Barroza, mayor of Nuevo Laredo, and Colonel Valadarez, commanding the military force there, tonight notified families remaining in the city that a rebel force was within ten miles of the town and advised them to flee across the American border. As a result more than 1,000 persons fled to Laredo. Indications are the statement regarding the closeness of rebels is not borne out.

May Veto Feeble-Minded School.

Austin, March 27.—The governor is considering the advisability of vetoing the bill providing a state training school for feeble-minded on the ground that the appropriation is excessive. He believes that much money could be saved by establishing the institution with the state epileptic colony at Abilene.

NUMBER OF DEATHS CAUSED BY FLOOD AND FIRE IS UNKNOWN

Revised estimates of the loss of life in Dayton, Ohio, received last night give ground for hope that the dead in all sections affected by the flood will not exceed 2000 and may go below that figure. During investigations who penetrated the flooded section revealed hundreds safe whom it was feared were lost.

Unless swelled by a death list in the foreign settlement, on the north side, as yet unsearched, there may not be more than 200 dead in the whole city. From other points than Dayton the death list grew rapidly yesterday and last night.

There was far heavier loss of life in the west side of Columbus, Ohio, than was thought. One estimate placed the number at more than 600.

Apparently authentic reports indicated that 20 were dead.

At Peru, Ind., the authorities estimated the total would reach at least 150.

From Hamilton, Ohio, 50 persons were reported drowned in a collapse of a hotel where they had sought refuge.

Twenty-five deaths were reported from Troy, Ohio, 30 in Middletown and 5 at Massillon.

Deaths from the flood in Chillicothe will not exceed 25, according to state officials. Earlier advice was that from 200 to 500 lives had been lost.

A report from Linton, Ind., gave 16 persons drowned at Hovesville, 25 miles south of Terra Haute.

There were 10 deaths in Sharon, Pa. Estimates are that 70,000 persons were marooned in Dayton's flooded district where 15,000 homes have been submerged. Rescue stations are providing for 5000 homeless. The property damage in the city is figured at $25,000,000.

Latest reports from Zanesville are that 150 lives are believed to have been lost there. About 1500 are homeless. A score of buildings collapsed. Fire broke out at one point, but it was not believed it would spread.

Twenty were found dead among refugees in the court house at Peru, Ind., the victims of exposure according to telephone message. Contagion has broken out among the refugees, the report stated.

All Dayton sufferers who could be reached were fed. Flood waters are receding there.

Fires in Dayton's flooded district subsided yesterday, but broke out again last night.

Flood conditions along the Ohio are growing worse. Lowlands are inundated. Still higher stages and further damage is predicted.

Flood conditions in West Virginia have become serious. Eastern Pennsylvania is suffering severely.

Vandalism in West Indianapolis caused a threat of martial law. Several deaths from drowning have occurred.

Northern and western New York are flood stricken. Heavy property damage has followed in the Hudson and the Mohawk valleys, and in the western part of the southern tier.

President Wilson has announced his readiness to go to the scene of the Ohio floods if his presence will aid. Under his direction Secretary of War Garrison left at once for Central Ohio.

General Leonard Wood, Quartermaster General Aleshira and a party of officers, physicians and surgeons accompanied him. Surgeon General Blue of the public health service has gone to the scene to take personal charge.

A bin signal corps detachment will help open communication. The navy department ordered marines, physicians and others at its recruiting stations in the central west to co-operate with the army medical staff.

Trains are moving with food, medical supplies and other necessities into the flood region.

The railroads are working hard to make repairs.

Relief funds are swelling throughout the nation. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are already available.

Seven states are seriously affected by the widening flood area. They are Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky and Illinois, in all of these railroad traffic is paralyzed or greatly hampered.

Damage to railroad property alone may reach $250,000,000.

Telegraph and telephone wires are down on all sides. Large forces are making repairs, but progress is slow. A prolonged period of high water in the Mississippi below Cairo is now predicted.

Relief fund for storm sufferers.

Mayor gets over seven hundred for the people in distress.

Offers it through red cross.

Other funds are to be secured as the people offer contributions. Will be forwarded.

In response to the appeal in the Morning News yesterday, Mayor J. H. Mackey received during the day contributions to the amount of $613 for the flood sufferers in the middle west which, added to the $100 donated the day before by the Goldstein & Migel company, is a total that he has tendered to the National Red Cross. Last night Mayor Mackey sent the following telegram:

"J. H. Mackey, Mayor of Waco, Texas."

"Feeling a profound sympathy for the storm-stricken people of Ohio and Indiana, citizens of Waco have contributed to a relief fund which tonight amounts to $113, which is now subject to your draft. Any additional amounts to this will be forwarded to you by New York exchange."

Many have responded to the appeal made by the mayor through the Morning News. Some have sent their dollar, others have given in much smaller amounts, and in some of the business houses employees have clubbed together to make up a purse. The mayor will continue to receive whatever amounts are tendered to be forwarded to the people who are now in such need. The following is a list of the contributions:

Great loss of life is reported at Zanesville.

Zanesville, O., March 27.—(Via Telephone to Pittsburgh.)—It is believed here tonight that 150 lives have been lost in the disastrous floods now holding this city and vicinity in its grasp. Over half the town is under 30 feet of water. Fifteen thousand persons are homeless.

A score of buildings, weakened by the water, collapsed today. Tonight the Builders Supply company building at Second and Main streets caught fire. It is not believed the fire will spread.

The Muskingum and the Licking rivers are still rising here. Relief is needed at once. Only one telephone line connects Zanesville with the outside world and it fails frequently.

The weather has turned cold and the homeless are suffering intensely. The food supply is almost exhausted.

From the hills around Zanesville the survivors of the crush of the waters looked down upon a scene of the utmost desolation. What had been two rivers is one great, destroying stream. More than 600 homes have been swept away. Although many persons were saved, it is believed 150 is a conservative estimate of the fatalities. Late today two unknown young men in a skiff rescued eight persons from roofs. As the boat struggled through the swift flood water it was suddenly upset. All occupants were swept to their deaths.

More than thirty bodies were seen floating in the raging water today, but it was impossible to reach any of them. The gas supply is still on tonight but there is no water or electric light.

Looters at work; 600 are rescued.

West Dayton, O., March 27.—The police and militia report that looters are at work in the central district. Persistent but unconfirmed rumors tell of looters being shot. Excitement is running riot. The wildest of rumors were in circulation and serious trouble is expected.

Six hundred persons who, trapped in the Union station here, reported to have been drowned, were rescued tonight. For three days they had been standing like sardines in a box.

Identified dead.

Dayton, Ohio.

Charles Packet, liverman; found in court house yard.

Detective E. Rubie and wife.

Detective German Dulle.

Albert Miller.

Patrolman Isaac Finn, Elkins.

Elbert Edwards, wife and child.

Joseph Bogansky, wife and two children.

Minor Stillner, third regiment, national guard.

The policeman and soldier perished while doing relief work, the latter meeting his fate this morning when a boat capsized.

Seeks Convicts' Aid.

Little Rock, March 27.—Acting Governor Futrelle today received a request by long distance telephone from O. N. Kilgough, chairman of the St. Francis levee board asking that 100 convicts be sent to prepare the levees on the Arkansas side for the expected rise of the Mississippi. Mr. Kilgough said the need was extremely urgent.

A law passed by the recent legislature provides that all state convicts shall be employed on the state farm and makes it unlawful to hire or lease convicts. Governor Futrelle is willing to send the convicts but believes he is forbidden by the new law. He appealed to Attorney General Morse and the latter will advise the governor tomorrow.

Believes Dead Will Number 1500.

Although not reticent by news from the flood zone's interior, Governor Cox's secretary, Mr. Burba, was scarcely able to credit the assertion. From his own investigations of the southern district he was unable to believe that the death list would be under 1500.

"There are 10,000 unaccounted for on this side of the river, and if all but 200 of these are found it will be the greatest miracle of the time."

It is impossible to approach within several blocks of the fire zone, even

Ohio river is leaving banks at many points.

Cincinnati, O., March 27.—The Ohio river has been rising steadily here all day and still is climbing. At 8 o'clock the gauge showed 60, a rise of more than three feet since the same hour this morning.

East and west of this city on the Ohio side of the river the lowlands have been inundated and much damage has been done. In the low sections of the city many houses have been flooded.

Across the river at Newport and Covington, Ky., similar conditions prevail and the police early today took the precaution to warn dwellers in the low lying sections of the danger that threatened. Larger areas on that side of the river are flooded because of the great extent of the lowlands and also because of Mill creek which flows through both cities.

Dayton and Ludlow, other Kentucky suburbs of this city, also are sufferers from the rising flood and many houses are completely under water.

No lives have been lost in this district.

The weather bureau here predicts that the river will have reached a stage of nearly 70 feet by tomorrow night, almost as high as it was on February 14, 1884, when the gauge showed 71 feet, the highest on record.

Rise at Henderson, Ky.

Henderson, Ky., March 27.—With a rise of 5.4 feet recorded in the last 24 hours, the Ohio river tonight has a stage of 36.4 feet. Farmers in the surrounding lowlands are moving their stock and goods to high ground.

Coffins needed.

Ohio Governor Reports the Need of Assistance.

Columbus, Ohio, March 27.—Money by telegram is an urgent need of Ohio's flood-swept districts, according to a proclamation issued by Governor Cox today. He said that it is impossible to get supplies to the district stricken because trains are unable to penetrate, and that supplies can best be procured at the nearest points to the cities and towns affected.

The officers of the Red Cross are here and ready to give assistance.

Food and coffins are needed badly in Dayton, according to a message to Governor Cox this afternoon from Adjutant General Wood, who is in the flood-stricken city. The survivors are nearly starving, and there must be coffins in which to place the dead bodies as they are recovered, according to the adjutant general.

Galveston Raises $1250.

Galveston, March 27.—The board of city commissioners this evening voted an appropriation of $1250 cash for the relief of Ohio and Indiana flood victims. Of the appropriation $750 is to be telegraphed to Governor Cox of Ohio and $500 to Governor Ralston of Indiana.

Mayor Lewis Fisher issued a proclamation urging all citizens of Galveston to contribute to a fund for the relief of the sufferers. Bishop N. A. Gallagher of the Catholic diocese of Galveston, after sending a substantial personal check, has issued an order to his diocese embracing South Texas counties urging contributions.

Sightseer Killed.

Pittsburg, March 27.—D. J. Thayer, a wealthy oil operator, while watching the flood waters of the Allegheny late today, fell from a third-story window in his office and was killed.

Weather indications.

In the canoe, but there was every indication that the Beckel house had not been burned and that the fire had been confined to the blocks beyond Jefferson and Third streets.

Hotel Guests Entertain Fears.
The 200 guests of the Algonquin hotel have been kept physically uncomfortable, although in the contiguous street the fire would reach them. The water reached the second floors, but all had been moved to places of safety.

A report which had been current in the water district south of Main street, that Adjutant General Wood had been fatally injured by falling plate glass proved to be untrue. General Wood now is in full charge of the relief work and though his arm had been badly cut, his condition was not serious.

Paint Factory Offers Refuge.
Two hundred women and babies found refuge in a paint factory in North Dayton, where it is believed they have found sufficient food to keep them from acute suffering. An effort is to be made at once to rescue them.

The suburbs of Riverside up to Helena street, has been penetrated by the downtown relief commission and conditions found similar to those in the southern suburbs. Everyone had been crowded to the second floors or roofs of their homes, but few of the more stable dwellings were washed away.

The district north of Helena street has not been reached, but it is not believed the conditions there will prove as bad as had been feared. Nothing is known of the foreign settlement in North Dayton, close to the Miami river.

One Body Found.
This was the part of the city where the flood first made its way and where occupants of the houses had ignored warnings to leave. It was here also that it was feared most of the deaths would occur. The only body found was that of Charles Parker, a liveryman, discovered in the courtyard.

Col. H. G. Catrow arrived with his military aides from Columbus this afternoon and immediately took charge of the military on duty. At least five more companies will be in Dayton by tomorrow, according to Colonel Catrow. Temporary quarters have been established at the Huffman avenue school house.

Sightseers Barred.
Governor Cox ordered that no more sightseers be permitted in Dayton. When Colonel Catrow attempted to have railroad coaches of an arriving train vacated, many of the passengers showed fight and refused to leave. Orders were given the trainmen to cut off two rear coaches, and they were left standing on the track.

Parts of Main street are impassable because of debris. At several points it is comprised of outbuildings that had struck more stable buildings and had been dashed to pieces.

Element of Fear.
One of the remarkable features was the cheerless spirit with which flood victims viewed their plight. This was Dayton's first big flood in many years. Much of the submerged area had been considered safe from high water, but as the majority of residents in these sections looked out on all sides upon a great sweep of muddy, swiftly moving water, they seemed undisturbed.

In some of the poorer sections the attitude of the marooned was not so cheerful. As a motor boat passed beneath the second floor of one partly submerged house, a man leaned out and threatened to shoot unless they took off his wife and a baby that had been born yesterday. The woman, almost dying, was let from the window by a rope and taken to a place of refuge.

Further on, members of a motor boat party were startled by shots in the second floor of a house, about which the wind of water whirled. The boat was fired at and a man peered from the window of the house.

"Why are you shooting?" he was asked.
"Oh, just amusing myself shooting at the rats that came upstairs; when are you going to take me out of here?" he replied.

H. F. Lackhart, captain of police, declared that the water in North Dayton, Miami City and East Dayton reached the house tops. His estimate of the number of dead in that district was 200.

Bodies Float Down Main Street.
The bodies of a woman and a baby were seen floating down Jefferson street, one of Dayton's main thoroughfares. It was thought they came from the district north of the city. According to city officials, it is impossible to estimate the number who perished in the fire which last night swept the entire district in the north side of Dayton street between Jefferson street and the canal, a distance of more than a square and a half.

All patrons in the Beckel hotel, on Main street, are safe. Extensive preparations were made last night for their rescue when the building was threatened by fire. Police and volunteers constructed a bridge over alleys and the tops of adjoining buildings to a point of safety.

The flood situation tonight appeared brighter than this morning. There was food for the town's breakfast and dinner left after 6 o'clock tonight, but it was believed the many trains of provisions on the way would reach here tomorrow.

Cold Causes Discomfort.
The water receded rapidly today. An occasional snow flurry and biting gusts added to the discomfort of the rescue crews, but they remained steadily at work.

The emergency committee today began publication of an official newspaper from the plant of the National Cash Register company. It was a one-sheet poster designed for free circulation in all accessible parts of the city. Its leading article warned the people to beware of thieves and burglars.

RAILROADS HEAVY LOSERS.
B. & O. Officials Believe Damage Will Reach Millions.
Baltimore, Md., March 27.—That the financial loss to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad by the floods would run into the millions was indicated by President Willard of that company today.

When asked how much the damage would amount to, Mr. Willard said: "I can't tell. I haven't an idea. I wish I could say that it would be under $2,000,000, but I cannot. I know that half a dozen of the bridges on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton have been destroyed and bridges on the Baltimore and Ohio have been washed away. We have lost one of our largest bridges on the main route to Chicago, at Zanesville, Ohio, and it will probably be six months before we will have another completed bridge there, although we will have some bridges there soon. We hope to have our main line to Chicago open in twenty-four hours and our main line to Cincinnati open in the same time. We cannot tell when we will have our line to St. Louis open."

25 DEAD AT PIQUA.
State Troops Reported to Be Stranded Near Troy.
Troy, Ohio, March 27.—The state troops who arrived here last night with provisions for Dayton have been stranded and find it impossible to go forward. The number of dead at Piqua is officially reported to be twenty.

Twenty-five deaths from the flood have been reported here so far. One-half of the town is cut off from gas, electricity and water supply. A trainload of provisions has arrived, but no provisions are being distributed so that there is no danger from hunger. One-half of the state troops left here today on foot for Dayton, following the tracks of the railroad.

Kentucky Capitol in Path.
Lexington, Ky., March 27.—A report reached here that the state capitol at Frankfort is under water, but this information has not been confirmed. Wire communication between Richmond and Irvine and Beattyville has been cut off by the high water.

The river towns are said to be greatly in need of relief, but no general call for assistance has been issued. Hundreds are reported driven out of their homes by the rising water in the lowlands. The Louisville and Nashville railroad has discontinued train service to Eastern Kentucky.

Dayton Again in Flames.
Dayton, March 27.—Fire broke out in the central district tonight. It appears to be east of those previous, and its glare can plainly be seen from West Dayton. It was reported a fire had broken out here, and the militia called for volunteers. It was a false alarm.

Denver Raises $1,000.
Denver, Colo., March 27.—A relief fund of $1,000 for Ohio flood sufferers was raised this afternoon when the house of the Colorado legislature followed the receipt by Governor Ammons of a telegram from Governor Cox appealing for financial aid.

Mayor Arnold today telegraphed $2,000 to Governor Cox, $1,000 having been appropriated by the city and $1,000 given by individuals. Mr. Arnold today sent telegrams to 109 Colorado mayors asking aid for the flood sufferers.

Newcastle, Pa., Under Water.
Newcastle, Pa., March 27.—Flood water, which covers the entire town, began to recede slowly tonight, having claimed at least three lives, wrecked 1000 homes, made over 2000 homeless and caused a property loss estimated at $2,000,000. The town is without light, gas or water, and the condition of the flood is growing serious.

Action in Connecticut.
New Haven, Conn., March 27.—An appeal to the state to aid the sufferers of flood, fire and famine in sister states was issued by Governor Baldwin today.

The house of representatives passed an emergency appropriation of $10,000 for relief purposes, and only awaits senate action to be available.

Tennessee Gives $3000.
Nashville, March 27.—The senate this afternoon passed a resolution donating $3000 for the use of the flood and storm sufferers. One thousand dollars each is to be turned over to the governors of Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska for distribution. Governor Hooper today issued an appeal to the people and the president of the state to raise funds for flood victims.

Grand Army Commander Appeals.
Bridgeport, Conn., March 27.—Judge A. B. Beers of this city, commander in chief of the grand army of the state, has telegraphed the department commanders in forty-four states an appeal for aid for flood victims in the middle west and for the tornado victims in Nebraska.

Five Dead at Massillon.
Massillon, Ohio, March 27.—(Via telephone to Pittsburgh)—Five known dead, 3000 homeless, half the town inundated and heavy property damage is the toll of flood waters from Tuscarawas river here. Tonight the town is without light and gas.

MRS. EATON TO FACE CHARGE OF GIVING POISON
Plymouth, Mass., March 27.—An indictment charging Mrs. Jennie May Eaton with having poisoned her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was returned today. It charges her with having administered poison to him.

Mrs. Eaton will be arraigned tomorrow, but owing to the crowded court calendar, it probably will be several months before she is brought to trial. District Attorney Barker admitted tonight that the state has been unable to determine whether or by whom the poison alleged to have been given the admiral had been purchased.

POLICE INSPECTORS INDICTED.
Two Patrolmen and Civilian Also Face Charges.
New York, March 27.—James E. Hussey and James F. Thompson, police inspectors, and Capt. John J. Murtha, formerly acting inspector, were indicted today on charges of being accessories to the district attorney's crusade against graft in the police department. Two patrolmen and a civilian, alleged to be a graft collector, also were indicted. Nineteen indictments were handed down and bench warrants issued for the six men involved.

Edward J. Newell, formerly attorney for George A. Sipp, the resort keeper, who aided the district attorney in his fight against police graft, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with having kept Sipp out of the state after Sipp had been subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury.

Custom Swindle Quiz Secrets.
Washington, March 27.—Secretary McAdoo and Attorney General McKim today began an investigation today of alleged customs swindle, under which it is suspected dressmaking concerns have defrauded the government of duties on imported gowns, principally from Paris. The scheme, it is said, seems to be a revival of the system used in what was known as the "sleeper trunk" cases of several years ago. While it is believed to center at Boston, other parts are being investigated. Many of the importers as far as the investigation has progressed, seem to be in New York.

Judge Hamilton Goes to Porto Rico.
Mobile, Ala., March 27.—Peter J. Hamilton, recently appointed district United States judge of Porto Rico, took the oath of office before United States Judge Harry T. Toulmin here Wednesday evening. He will leave for Porto Rico via Washington Monday. Judge Toulmin, after the ceremony, entertained at dinner in honor of Judge Hamilton.

Ennis Power Plant Changes Hands.
Ennis, March 27.—The Texas Light and Power company has purchased the Ennis power plant here for $35,000. The ice making part of the plant will be retained by the present owners. The deal is effective November 1.

The Best Tonic For Spring Use
(The Home Doctor.)
"To best cleanse the system and rid the blood of those impurities which cause drowsiness, spring fever, sluggish action of the liver and general spring sickness, there is nothing quite so good as a home-made sarsaparilla, prepared as follows: Get from any drug store 1-2 pint alcohol and one ounce karoene; mix these with 1-2 cupful of sugar, then add hot water to make a quart."

"No matter how lacking in strength and energy or how run-down one may be, a tablespoonful of this splendid tonic taken before meals will soon purify the blood, fill one with energy and the feeling of perfect health, and remove all pinches or slowness. This simple, inexpensive system-tonic is a perfect liver-regulator and will do wonders as a family medicine in preventing sickness."

DAMAGE DONE TO FRUIT IN TEXAS
REPORTS FROM VARIOUS SECTIONS EXPRESS GROWERS' FEARS.
LATEST FROST SINCE 1903
Peaches, Strawberries and Vegetables Most Susceptible to Injury at This Season.

Fort Worth, March 27.—Though a general freeze and a severe frost, and some snow swept Texas Wednesday night, the fruit and vegetables may be far from a total loss. Half may be saved. This was indicated Thursday in dispatches from East and South Texas.

In the immediate vicinity of Fort Worth, however, the loss seems practically complete, according to Riverside orchard owners and florists. One estimated that nine-tenths of the fruit and truck is "killed."

But from East Texas, where the great bulk of the Texas fruit and truck is raised, comes a much more hopeful report.

Cold Little Greater.
Wednesday night's freeze was only a few degrees colder than that of the one two weeks ago. The latter failed to injure the crop materially, therefore this second one may have been resisted, too, state dispatches from Jacksonville.

In many sections calm clear skies accompanied this cold, with very heavy frosts, while winds at other points protected vegetation. Reports from all over the state indicate that thousands of dollars' damage was done to peaches and garden products and that even the cucumber belt was nipped. Although numerous points reported the fruit crop entirely killed, it appears there is still a chance for a general peach crop over the state, though it may be scanty.

The freeze in many cases was just at the dividing line between killing and light damage, so that experienced growers said it would take several days to gauge the frost's exact effects.

Heaviest Since 1908.
The heaviest frost that has visited this vicinity since the killing frost of May 1, 1903, damaged the fruit and vegetable crops Thursday morning to the extent of several thousand dollars. The temperature dropped to 22 degrees below zero late Wednesday and by daylight Thursday the ground in some sections of the city was frozen to a depth of an inch.

Buds on the pear, peach and plum trees were nipped and most of the early vegetable crop ruined. Growers and nurserymen ascribe the damage to the early sunshine Thursday, clearing that the crops would practically have escaped had the morning been cloudy.

The orchards of Z. T. Cutchins, a Riverside fruit and produce grower, 98 out of 100 blooms on the fruit trees were destroyed. Early cantaloupes, squashes, beans, cabbage and tomatoes met a similar fate.

Similar View.
J. D. Baker and R. Drumm, local nurserymen, make more encouraging reports.
"From a casual examination of my orchards this morning, I do not believe the peach crop has been badly damaged," said Mr. Drumm. "Peaches suffered to some extent, but plums, as far as I can see, were not hurt. There is no question, however, but that the cold will result in heavy losses to fruit growers."

Vegetable growers whose early crops suffered by the frost will replant their fields immediately. One fruit grower ventured the prediction that the frost, by checking the activity of the trees, would prove an ultimate benefit to the peach crop.

Damage at Bowie.
Serious damage to the peach crop at Bowie was reported by T. P. Evans, a fruit commission merchant. The Elberta crop here, according to Mr. Evans, is almost entirely destroyed. The later peach, the "Mamie Rose," was injured to any extent. But few early vegetables have as yet been planted at Bowie.

The secretary of the Weatherford chamber of commerce reported that the frost had not proved so injurious to the fruit. The vegetable crop there was seriously affected, practically all of the exposed growths being killed.

Texas Cities Report.
Jacksonville.—Temperature early Thursday morning registered 26, which was two degrees lower than registered when the freeze occurred last week. There was abundant ice wherever water was exposed. At this hour it is impossible to ascertain definitely how much damage has been sustained to the peach and vegetable crops, but it is generally conceded that much injury has been done. Wesley Love, one of the largest peach growers, is hopeful that there still will be a fair peach crop, but stated that he had not yet inspected his orchards. Growers generally were surprised that the freeze last week did little lower temperature it is thought the many orchards will escape serious damage. Tomato plants out in the field unprotected have been injured, but most of the crop was protected.

Tyler.—The temperature here this morning was 25. Half the peach crop is reported killed, one-third the tomato crop and early strawberries badly damaged.

San Marcos.—Sugar cane in this section was killed by the freeze last night. Irish potatoes and truck was badly damaged.

Palestine.—As the result of a hard freeze here last night, fruit and early garden truck were killed.

Waskachie.—The fruit crop in Ellis county is reported killed and gardens and young corn severely damaged by the frost and freeze last night. The temperature was the lowest of the month.

Galveston.—Additional reports of damage by Wednesday's hailstorm continue to come in. Greenhouses, H. Kaden, florist, south of Galveston, suffered loss of hundreds of panes of glass. One thousand pounds of glass shipped to Whitesboro to repair damage there. The fruit belt in cross timbers section suffered heavily. Scores of farm houses had all their windows shattered.

Cleburne.—A heavy frost fell here this morning and did considerable damage to young gardens and fruit.

Paris.—Ice was half an inch thick here this morning. Reports from the surrounding country indicate that a great deal of fruit was killed.

Rusk.—Fort last night killed the peach crop in this section. All tomatoes were destroyed. The damage in this country will reach thousands of dollars.

Houston.—Ice was plentiful over this section of the coast country today but it is not thought gardens were materially damaged, as an all-night wind prevented the fall of frost.

San Angelo.—Frost visited this section last night and the temperatures dropped to 20 degrees. It is feared that much vegetation was killed.

A remarkable feature of the trial has been the rapidity with which it has been conducted. It was at first expected that the case could not be completed during the week. Both sides announced ready for trial last Monday and the selection of the jury was begun. With afternoon adjournment the jury was completed. Tuesday morning the state began the introduction of evidence. On Tuesday afternoon the state rested and the defense had its inning. The defense rested its case Wednesday afternoon when the state began the introduction of rebuttal testimony. This was concluded at 11 o'clock Thursday morning and the state closed its case. The defense offered several witnesses before closing and at noon the introduction of evidence had been concluded.

Testimony of Forenoon.
During Thursday morning several witnesses were called.
Mr. Wakefield Called.
C. L. Wakefield testified that he was in the ice business and was also president of the Republic Trust company. He said at the time of the killing he was in Iowa. He testified that he knew the defendant and that in his opinion the first time he met him was in December. He identified a contract shown him by Attorney Adams and identified the signatures to the contract. He said Mr. White was not present when the contract was signed. He was asked to explain the absence of Mr. White. Witness said Mr. White had to catch a train to McKinney and left the office before the contract had been drawn up.

"Now I am going to ask you, Mr. Wakefield," said Attorney Adams, "if Mr. White ever lost his temper during the discussions?"
Witness said he did not.

Witness was asked at length concerning the contract, with reference to the property at San Antonio land. He said the deal was being made by individuals and not by the Republic Trust company.

"After this contract was made state whether or not Mr. CLOPTON complied with it," asked Attorney Adams.
"He did not," replied the witness.

TO THE JURY TODAY
CLOPTON CASE HAS BEEN QUICK TRIAL OF MURDER CHARGE.
Arguments Are to End at Noon and Jury Will Then Receive the Charge.

Dallas, March 27.—Introduction of evidence in the case of J. A. CLOPTON was completed at noon today. By agreement of the attorneys for the prosecution and for the state, seven hours were allowed for argument. At 2 o'clock this afternoon these arguments were begun and efforts will be made to give the case to the jury by Friday at noon. CLOPTON lives at Waco and is on trial for the killing of James L. White in the Wilson building, February 29. His only plea is one of self defense. During this morning's proceedings surprise after surprise were sprung by both sides. Little new evidence was brought out, however, from the dozen witnesses who were placed on the stand.

A remarkable feature of the trial has been the rapidity with which it has been conducted. It was at first expected that the case could not be completed during the week. ### MRS. HARRY LEE SPENCER HAS DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Nothing out of the accustomed pleasant afternoon with sewing, small talk and the luncheon feature, characterized the session of the Domestic Science with Mrs. Harry Lee Spencer. The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. M. G. Jarreau of Dallas, who was with Mrs. Buford McWhirter and Mrs. Clyde Webb.

MRS. JOHN B. SHERWOOD TO COME ON WEDNESDAY

The Jean Sherwood Mothers' club invites all city teachers and members of mothers' clubs to meet Mrs. Jean Sherwood of Chicago at an informal tea at the library on Wednesday afternoon after 2 o'clock. This is complimentary to Mrs. Sherwood, altogether social, except that the German gallery of photographs which Mrs. Sherwood brings will be hung and Mrs. Sherwood will make an informal talk concerning them. Later in the week Mrs. Sherwood gives her art talks, all three bordering upon England. These will be announced in detail with Sunday.

THE VIOLET WHIST CLUB HAS DOUBLE HOSTESS

The first in the second round of games where the Violet whist will have dual hostess came in the parlors of Mrs. Sam Freund, with Mrs. Jack Sanger assistant. The usual game was played with several visitors included, the latter being the Misses Ray Naman and Eva Davidson with the Mesdames Henry A. Michelson of Austin, Lehman Sanger and Sol Gordon of Beaumont. The two favors fell to the Mesdames Harry Sachs and Dave Landman. The next game will be played with Mrs. Harry Sachs, her assistant being Mrs. Louis Lipshitz.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR THIS FRIDAY

The Austin Avenue Missionary meets in social session with Mrs. R. L. Cartwright at 2 o'clock.

The Friday bridge resumes with Mrs. J. S. Hill, on West Columbus.

The Keweenaw hosts their Easter dance at the Philo club.

The Silver Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. Alex Turner is celebrated at their home on North Fifteenth in the evening.

The Sunday school banquet takes place at the Cotton Palace.

Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker reads "The Piper" at Carroll Chapel at half after 3 o'clock.

LILIAN HOLLISTER HIVE HOLDS SOCIAL MEETING

It is the custom of the Lilian Hollister Hive, Ladies of Macabees, to hold social session on the last Tuesday of each month. The last took the form of an interesting game of progressive forty-two. The Easter rabbit made its appearance on the wall. Each one was given a piece of cotton and a pin. Blindfolded, she tried to place the "tail" on the rabbit. This caused a great deal of merriment. The prize fell to Mrs. Caswell. She, in courtesy to the out of town guests, had them draw domino straws which gave the glass sandwich plate as the prize to Mrs. Park. Refreshments were served.

THE LITTLE FOLKS HAVE A PURIM DANCE

It has been told now as an old story that each woman in the congregation of Temple Rodef Shalom is pledged to raise a certain amount towards the Temple debt. In order to meet their pledges, the Mesdames Harry Lawrence and A. Silvers decided to make this Purim festival the occasion of a dance for the little folks at the Progressive club. So nicely were arrangements made, and so popular did the idea seem, that there was all the flourish of a ball. The little folks had control of the floor for the first hours, after which the grown ups could indulge a dance or two.

AN EASTER LUNCHEON WITH MRS. PIO CRESPI

The first luncheon of the Easterfest found twelve guests with Mrs. Pio Crespi as the hostess. The spring table appointments and the beauty in touch through the menu, there was animated conversation and a general good time through the luncheon hour. Mrs. Crespi paid homage to the Easter season, and utilized several opportunities to use the ascension lily to advantage. In the almond cups, again in the ice mold, and in the center piece this floral design gave patronage to the season. Some bits of tale and other of the "happiest" touches of taste were admitted. The guests were the Mesdames William Brumsted, Frank Fornan, Charles Hamilton, Bart Moore, S. E. Stratton, J. W. Bass, W. O. Wilkes, William Waldo Cameron, E. F. Carroll and W. E. Spelt, with Miss Gertrude Bush.

MRS. SIDNEY BURROWS HAS HER EUCHEUR CLUB

Entertaining out at the Huaco club, Mrs. Sidney Burrows of Austin Heights received the members of the Young Married Ladies' Eucheur club which has been disbanded since the beginning of Lent. This was the Easter awakening under very favorable auspices. The prizes were taken by the Mesdames W. W. Bass and H. W. Moore. Several absences from the city caused the hostess to supply vacant hands. This she did principally with the season's brides. Mrs. Camille White Franklin will be the next hostess. Those whom Mrs. Burrows entertained are the Mesdames Lloyd Tuttle, Harvey Penland, J. D. Willis, Robert Tolson, Bart Moore, Charles Moore, S. E. Stratton, Howell McCullough, Charles Hamilton, J. W. Bass, W. W. Seley, Chapin Seley, Leslie Gardner, George Zinnia, Lou Madden Brown, W. D. Rondthaler, William Early, J. E. Allison, J. S. Hill, W. Pryor, J. R. Cooper, Chester Story and Joy Westbrook.

MRS. BERTHA KUNZ BAKER DINED AT HUACO CLUB

In special compliment to Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hale with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boynton invited from among their friends a party of eighteen to spend an evening with Mrs. Baker at the Huaco club. These guests were principally those who had been nearer to Mrs. Baker in her former visits, hence a party where the social favor overcame the atmosphere of the formal. In anticipation of the Shaw evening to follow, some of this erratic man's sentiments, clever as can be, were selected for the dinner cards, each selection bearing upon the personality of the one whose name was appended. This made the repast flow fast and to the exceeding merry time. The season's iris was used as a floral touch on the table around which the guests lingered for more than two ### hours. Those who spent this delightful evening with Mrs. Baker are the Mesdames and Messdames Ben Gray Kendall, William Slesinger, B. G. Patton, H. C. Richer, Edward Rotan, with the Mesdames J. W. Bass and J. E. Boynton, Miss Bernice Young and Dr. Carl Lovelace.

EASTER TEA AT THE HOME A GREAT SUCCESS

Dressed with the spring flowers and a tea table attractively set, was the anticipation of the members of the Home association for their Easter tea. Nor was one disappointed for the attendance was unusually large. All the remembrances with rosin and checks was quite gratifying. It is never safe to give the amount so soon after one of the Home teas, for generous friends are some time for a week or more sending in contributions. One feature was the gracious presence of Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker who found time from an unusually full day to spend a short while at the Home. Mrs. S. Archonhold, vice president, poured from the coffee urn, while Mrs. John Slesinger, Mrs. Rob Kilgough and Miss Kilgough presided at the tea table. One enjoyed feature was the voice of Rev. Caldwell accompanied by Mrs. Caldwell. The old ladies, now inmates of the Home, entered into the social feature and seemed to enjoy thoroughly their privilege. Mrs. Edward Rotan as president of the Home association was assisted by the members as well as by a number who were present by her special invitation. Mrs. Marie Holway was in charge of the voluntary coin box, and reports already seventy-five dollars, with more to follow. In all, this Easter tea was entirely successful from the standpoint of attendance as well as of financial returns and the social feature around the tea and coffee tables.

"THE PIPER TO BE READ THIS AFTERNOON"

It is an interesting bit of literary history to hear that "The Piper" which will be read by Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker this afternoon is from an American author and a woman. This much has already been told by the Morning News. But, to go further, a certain lord who lives near the little English village of Stratford-on-Avon is very much interested in promoting the drama. He is addicted to Shakespeare loyalty to such an extent that he has the desire to keep up love of dramatic form for modern literature. Among mously, this man offered a prize of five hundred pounds, to the author of the best original drama. There had been writing short stories up in Massachusetts, a Mrs. Marks. She had been complimented for these and she had absorbed something of a literary taste owing to the connection of her husband with Harvard university. When she saw the offer of this handsome money prize, she thought herself of writing a drama. She did, and she won it. "The Piper," for it is largely allegorical. There were hundreds of manuscripts, almost one thousand, submitted in the contest. But that of "Josephine Penbody" won. And Mrs. Marks declared that her novel, "The Piper," it was decided that when the great birth festival of Stratford-on-Avon was held that not a drama should hold the boards of the Shakespeare Memorial theatre except this prize modern drama. This brought Mrs. Marks, or "Josephine Penbody" into immediate recognition. Mrs. Baker secured permission to incorporate "The Piper" into her repertoire, and Waco is to hear this work of an American woman accorded a prize by foreign judges.

Society Notes.

The government says the Texas mule is valuable property. One would not think so, the way he is kicked and cuffed around Waco.

Easter week has found Mrs. Ralph McLendon deprived all gayety owing to her own sickness as well as that of her little daughter Ruth.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith were Easter guests of their son, Nelson Smith, Junior, at Colver Academy, Indiana. Mr. Smith is now due at home but Mrs. Smith remains absent another week.

Mrs. W. E. Spelt, 1508 Washington, requests all who have subscribed for the lecture of Mrs. P. H. Snowden, to send her check for subscription at once.

once, as she is leaving for San Antonio on Monday, and wishes all arrangements for Mrs. Snowden complete before her departure.

The attractive and very appropriate decorations of Carroll chapel stage during the engagement of Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker is due to the committee of club women, but principally to Mrs. S. P. Brooks, who directed the decorations. It was a happy coincidence that the bowl of wistaria, the first seen this season, should be the exact tone of the gown in which Mrs. Baker made her first appearance.

The Waco women, several of them, have direct association with the flood-district in the north, and are holding anxious conversations by telephone.

How to dress the maid appropriately is now claiming more of the attention of home women. This is as it should be. If the maid is in the home she should be required to dress accordingly. Many are not even neat.

Simultaneous with Mrs. Baker's reading of "Milestones" on Wednesday, the Sun came to say that this play is one of the most popular of Easter week in Baltimore.

Owing to the readings of Bertha Kunz Baker and the Sunday school convention, the Round Table postponed its meeting a week.

Mrs. G. H. Pape, who is now on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Pape of North Tenth, is saying an revoir to her old home friends. About Sunday, she joins Mr. Pape from Dallas to Galveston from where they sail for a summer in Europe. They will return to Dallas early in August.

The buffalo clover is just beginning to unfold its buds. Who will be the first to gather it? But, whatever we do, let us not pluck one sprig from Cameron park. Rather leave that for the enjoyment of our visitors from out of Texas. A single sprig plucked is that much added to eventually exterminating the species.

Do teach the house maid how to answer calls at the door. We presume entirely too much upon the intelligence of this service. Some of the awkwardness would put us to shame, did we see it.

Has any one opened heart to provide seats for the Riverside Spring park? Some of these will add greatly to summer pleasure for the weary.

Now that we are talking to the high trimmed tree, how about the vine about the trunk?

Mrs. John T. Harrington is delighting several of her friends by sharing her "Johnnie Jump Up." This pride of our grandmother's garden has almost become extinct; at least it was until Mrs. Harrington secured some roots from a Tyler gardener.

During her visit in New York city, Mrs. J. R. Milay had the pleasure of a little time with Miss Lilian Halbert, whose winter art study is nearing an end.

Cultivate the thoughtfulness of telephoning your new to the Morning News editor. The women are all interested in making this daily department complete.

It is good that we of Waco have not heard all the comments made by the Sunday school guests upon the spitting pools in the street cars and about our public places. By the way, many mothers can aid in this by raising the boy to spit at the proper time and in the proper manner.

Did you find out who Milly Ridge is? You must make her acquaintance.

The vacant lot in Waco is still an offense to city pride. If we consider it a dump ground or a lot for cattle, we ought to retire to the provincial town where such such holds. Waco is a city, and the vacant lot should be in keeping. The owner has the right to protest if the occupant on either side makes it the receptacle for tin cans, broken bottles and other trash. Why not the Waco women whose hands own these lots, make each the model that some are already?

Already the commencement fever is rising among the various schools. Plans are the general topic, plans which will bring the closing excitement.

IS STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE.

Tom Crawford is injured while riding a bicycle.

While on his way to lunch on his bicycle yesterday about noon, Tom Crawford was struck by an automobile on Franklin street driven by W. A. Loving of 815 North Thirtieth street, suffering a fracture of the large bone of the leg above the ankle.

Mr. Loving was going toward Fifth from Sixth on Franklin in his car, and in attempting to turn out for a wagon struck Crawford's wheel. There was considerable traffic on the street and both Crawford and Loving turned in the same direction, each trying to avoid the other.

Mr. Loving placed the injured man in his machine and took him to a physician. Last night he was doing well, but suffered considerably.

LIBRARY TELLS THE METHODS

Books on Flowers and Gardens Are of Especial Interest at This Season—Story Hour.

Through Miss Lucy May Johnson, "The Book of Knowledge," in 20 volumes, has been placed in the children's department of the Public Library for reference use during the summer. While this is not a donation to the library, it will be used in the building just as any other books and will prove a valuable reference work. It is a collection of literature, chosen from all branches of knowledge written in popular style with a good index.

Wednesday Misses Guthrie and Hamilton of the Corsicana Public Library visited the public library here.

At this season of the year, when the thoughts of many people are turned towards flowers and gardens, a list of these subjects will be useful. In addition to the books, several magazines, devoted to flowers and gardens, are received regularly.

Magazines—"American Homes and Gardens," "Craftsman," "House Beautiful," "Parks and Cemeteries and Landscape Gardening."

Gardening books—"How to Plan the Home Ground," by Parsons; "The Care of Trees," by Fernow; "Manual Gardening," by Bailey; "How to Make School Gardens," by Hemenway; "Vines," by McCallum; "American Gardener's Calendar," by McMahon; "Chrysanthemums," by Powell; "Indoor Gardening," by E. E. Rexford; "Flowers and Ferns in their Haunts," by Wright.

Next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Lota Pharr will give the children another treat in her story hour "Strange Children From Strange Lands." She will use the stereopticon lantern to illustrate the story of child life in the different countries of the world. Adults as well as children are invited.

Deaths and Burials

Purcell Joseph Horan.

Purcell Joseph Horan, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Horan, living at Twenty-first and Trice, died yesterday morning at 11:40. The child was burned Wednesday afternoon while standing near a heating stove.

It is thought that his clothes caught fire from flames which were blown out of the bottom draft of the stove. He was in the room with a smaller brother and sister.

Mr. Horan was at the barn when he heard the screams of the child, who was rushing toward him, the flames being fanned by the high wind. His father extinguished the flames with his coat, but the boy was fatally burned about the body, and it is also thought that the flames reached his mouth and were drawn into his throat.

The funeral will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the Church of Assumption, Rev. E. A. Kelly, officiating. Interment will be made at Holy Cross cemetery.

HUMDRUM PROBLEM.

The books we think we ought to read are polky, dull and dry.
The books that we would like to read we are ashamed to buy.
The books that people talk about we never can recall.
And the books that people give us—oh, they're the worst of all!
—Carolyn Wells.

The plays we think we ought to see, they send us fast asleep;
The plays that we would like to see—to them we don't care to creep;
The plays that people talk about strike us as rat or small;
And the plays that people take us to—oh, they're the worst of all!
—Denver Republican.

The folks we think we ought to know they bore us to despair;
The folks whom we would like to know—for us have little care.
The folks that people talk about—somehow they seem to pall.
But the folks that come to see us—why, they're the best folks of all.
—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The food we think we ought to eat is tasteless, stale and cheap;
The food that we would like to eat's the kind that murders sleep;
The food that people talk about our income can't attain;
We eat the food we do eat from a "preference" that we feign.

They have made lots of advances in other ways in the last decade, but counting never changes. They do it just the way you used to do it. They put in the dark for hours and hold hands and feel perfectly happy. And she will say after an hour of silence: "What were you thinking about?" and he replies: "About you." And they kiss and she lays her head on his shoulder and they sit that way for another hour like two sick mud turtles. And her father pounds around as a signal for him to go, and they say good-by eighty-four times and kiss sixty-two times because they won't see one another for six hours. And he goes home walking on air and she goes to bed and worries for four some one will kidnap him. It hasn't changed a bit.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

O, the guileless, old-fashioned, gentle soul! How little of modernity has he learned! What changes and the items thereof does he not overlook? Pasteboards for the theatre, at two dollars and upwards per paste. Roses at X to N dollars the dozen. Confections at one dollar the short pound. Overnight novels worth thirty cents at $1.20 the love spasm. Motor car drives at four dollars the mote and taxicabs to and from padded dinners at meteorological rates. The simple old man! Surely when ignorance is a blister a fool has sense.

Some unscrupulous Wacoan has advised Cyrus Karikopolis of the avenue eatery that cold storage eggs will be costly because of the demand during the Easter celebration. May he be eternally scrambled with Chicago refrigerator product when he goes to his long home where canned grease is unknown and meat is fried in its own.

It will avail nothing for suffragettes in Washington to follow the example or their London half-sisters and threaten to cut off the city's water supply. Mr. Wilson drinks the sort imported in bottles and the greater part of the Democratic cohort would not realize there was a shortage oftener than once a week.

Paraphraser are chuckling because a man named Sniffer has been awarded Omaha's municipal contract to remove garbage. We are still sad that so many Texas communities give this job to men with catarrh.

WACO'S RELIEF FUND.

Again we urge the people of Waco to contribute generously to the fund for the relief of the thousands of homeless and suffering in Ohio and Indiana communities. The loss of life and property is appalling, all resources of food and clothing are swept away and too much could not be done for these stricken cities and their people were every State in the nation to give all aid within its power. Remember the response by cities in many other States to the plea of Texas in behalf of her thousands of people ruined by the Galveston storm. Mayor Mackey will send all contributions, large and small, to the proper authorities in the flood-swept region. Give generously to your countrymen in their great distress.

ONCE A PART OF EVERY BIBLE.

In Harper's for April, James Thompson Bixby tells the story of the fourteenth books which in the days of our grandfathers appeared in the Bible between the Old and New Testaments.

The name Apocrypha now attached to these fourteen books means primarily "The Hidden." Originally the word Apocryphal meant simply the books whose origin was obscure or whose usage and meaning were secret. Neither among Hebrew scholars nor in the early Christian church did the word imply that these books were either untrustworthy, spurious or unworthy of religious use and reverence. They have been printed, therefore, as part of Holy Scriptures in the Septuagint, the Vulgate and most Roman Catholic Bibles up to the present time. In the Lutheran, Reformed and English Bibles for nearly three centuries after Luther's break with Rome they were printed, and they have been read in Protestant pulpits during the same period as useful and good for edification, although not authoritative in proof of Christian doctrine. The Homilies of the Anglican church are still full of citations from the Apocrypha on an equal level with the canonical Old Testament.

It was not till the year 1826 that the British and American Bible societies banished them as uninspired from the company of the other Biblical writings with which for eighteen centuries they have been contributing to the moral instruction and spiritual nurture of Christendom.

Have these ancient books between the Testaments deserved this sentence of banishment from Christian knowledge and service? The customary reason given for this ecclesiastical boycott has been that they were "uncanonical." Many Christian scholars, however, doubt both the wisdom and the justice of this sentence. For with the rise of modern Biblical criticism the reasons on which theologians had leaned, such as that they were written in Greek, not in holy Hebrew, that ancient rabbis and scholars, like Jerome, had doubted their canonicity, and Protestant councils questioned their inspiration, have one by one lost their former force. Modern scholars think that the Divine Spirit was quite as likely to dictate religious revelation in Greek as in Hebrew, and that, in respect to scholarly knowledge and judgment of what is spiritual truth, modern critics and theologians are as competent to decide as ancient rabbis or the doctors of divinity of one or two hundred years ago.

DECREASE IN MEAT SUPPLY.

The decrease in the meat supply available for exportation is sharply illustrated by the February export figures just compiled by the statistical division of the foreign and domestic commerce. They show the number of cattle exported in the eight months ended with February, 1913, was but 120,656 head, against 210,219 head in the corresponding months of 1907, and the quantity of fresh beef exported was but 4,709,047 pounds, against 175,865,649 pounds in the corresponding months of 1907. That this shortage in the exportations is due in part at least to an actual reduction in the number of cattle in the United States is evidenced by the fact that the total number of cattle on farms, according to figures of the department of agriculture, was on January 1, 1911, but 56,527,000, against 72,534,000 on January 1, 1907.

Still another evidence of the demand in the United States for an increase in its cattle supply is found in the figures of the department of commerce which show an enormous increase in the importation of cattle, the number imported into the United States in the eight months ended with February, 1913, being 252,000 head, against 12,500 head in the corresponding months of 1907. Thus while the number of cattle on farms has fallen from 72,500,000 to 56,500,000 in the six-year period in question, the number exported has fallen from 270,000 head to 13,000, the quantity of fresh beef exported has fallen from 176,000,000 pounds to 4,750,000 pounds, and the number of cattle imported has increased from 12,500 head to 222,000 head, all of these figures of imports and exports being for the eight months' period ended with February of the years named.

WHAT'S THE PLATFORM BETWEEN POLITICIANS?

The State Democratic platform recommends the severing of all connection between the Agricultural and Mechanical college and the State University, and the levying of a specific tax for the support of those institutions, as well as for the support of the four normal colleges, the College of Industrial Arts and the Prairie View institution. But we find the legislature busying itself with a proposition to consolidate the college with the university, instead of taking steps to submit an amendment to the constitution that will give effect to the platform recommendation referred to.

Nation's Viewpoints

Since the Cotton Belt Bill Passed We Hope Little Jim Goes To Congress.

Senator W. J. Townsend, Jr., of Angelina county, is one of the hardest little scrappers in the senate. Single-handed and alone he fought the Cotton Belt consolidation bill in the senate last week for almost a day, being joined finally by Senator Westbrook and against him were arrayed Governor of Brown county, Morrow of Hill, Taylor of Bell, and Terrell of McLennan, and it is but simple justice to the senator from Angelina to say that he showed that he was capable of holding his own in any stage of the game. In fact, he put up one of the best fights in the present session, and that the boys who opposed him will remember for some time to come. Townsend is a young man, but is one of the strongest men in the upper branch of the Texas legislature.—West News.

The petit senator from Angelina is, as Colleague Terrell remarks, both young and strong, but a little too young and not quite strong enough to defeat single-handed a railroad merger measure of more widespread benefit than the mere laying of a few miles of rail in the senatorial (and, possibly, congress) district—to which localized benefit Mr. Townsend struggled to obligate the Cotton Belt as condition precedent to the authorization of the entire consolidation plan. There is no doubt this chubby champion of the rights of his (congress) district is solicitous to obtain that which he desires at the precise moment when he may happen to feel the desire, and we can appreciate his disappointment that his chamber mates wanted something else at the identical time. We are rejoiced that Mr. Townsend's plans went awry; we have always liked him and most of his works and all of his personal ways, and feel that we can like him better because we are rejoiced.

We Are Not Ashamed—Much.

It was no more than poetic justice that the legislature should present Tom Flinty, Jr., Hugh Fitzgerald and George Armstrong, press correspondents, with gold-headed canes, for long time in the State house is the prime cause of the need of these props. By the same token the makers should have given Tom a bottle of dye for his gray head, George a toupee for his bald one and Hugh a spring couch for his weariness.—Waco News.

If the juvenile paragrapher of the Waco News were still in Austin, he would have drawn a bottle of soothing Syrup.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The underscored paternity of the Star-Telegram's venerable exchanger hardly justifies him, in his six-years-seniority over the Waco News' paragrapher, in classing the latter as "juvenile," but it certainly accounts for his deft familiarity with soothing syrup.

Behind the Curtain.

Governor Colquitt let loose a thunderbolt in the shape of a special message at 4:30 this afternoon, and the artistic scorching that he gave the lawmakers who have been playing politics and ignoring the platform demands is the sensation of the capital tonight. The correspondent of the Fort Worth Record was with the governor for an hour before the message was sent to the legislature and is prepared to state not a bluff.—Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, in Fort Worth Record.

Noting the considerable reputation of H. N. F. as an adept bestower of ungarish opinions, it may sensibly be concluded that after his spell in the sanctum Mr. Colquitt gave the legislature Fitz in more ways than one.

VARSITY CALLS A. &amp; M. GRADUATE

GOES TO THE BRANCH SCHOOL FOR HEAD OF ARCHITECTURE DEPARTMENT.

MILNER GIVES THE FACTS

Answers the Fiction That Has Been Spread by The Enemies of State School.

College Station, Tex., March 27.—President R. T. Milner of the A. and M. college, has prepared the following statement:

There seems to be a burning desire at and near the capital of Texas to know just what the graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical college are doing. The public has a right and ought to know all the facts in the case. One dealer in second or third hand defamation says: "The statement has been made that not 10 per cent of the students who graduate in agriculture at the college ever return to the farm." That "statement" is about as near the truth as many others which have been handed out by persons who speak and write without investigation of any very great regard for accuracy.

It should be stated in this connection that our antagonists would take half the pains while searching our records and history, to ascertain the truth as they do to locate a fault or to discover a scandal, they would subserve a higher purpose and reflect more credit upon the campaign for "higher education."

Our official records show that 70 per cent of our agricultural graduates are actually engaged in farming. The "statement" makers could have easily obtained this fact by writing to the college registrar and thereby saved a false impression which is hard to correct. During the last several years more than 90 per cent of our agricultural graduates have returned to the farms. It should be understood that only of late years has agriculture had a prominent place in any agricultural college in the country. Not until ten years ago did the number taking agriculture at Cornell reach one hundred students. During the past five years the number of students taking agriculture at this college has increased 575.5 per cent. The charge that "the weak students who cannot enter the engineering course are crowded into agriculture" would be made by one whose mental discipline was such as to produce a love for correct statements. Young men whose minds are of the first order and whose preparation is not in order, the brightest engineers are wanting to know the absolute value of agriculture. All sensible people realize that the sciences underlying agriculture are as difficult to master as law, medicine or theology. "The starving scavengers of the learned professions" could make poor progress in the science of agriculture. Under the congenial atmosphere of this school our engineering and agricultural students move in perfect harmony, each one recognizing that the other is equal mentally, socially and every other way. They recognize that their vocations in life are interdependent, and such a thing as caste is unknown among them. In every way the corps of cadets is democratic through and through, and merit is the test of a man's worth.

Of our mechanical engineers, 69.7 per cent are engaged in the business of mechanical engineering, 31.2 the civil engineers, 94.5 of the electrical engineers, and 87.3 of the architectural engineers are following their various professions. That they are making good is evidenced by the fact that every class they graduate from the other corporations over those from the other colleges and universities of the south. It would be interesting if space would allow it to name the long list of our engineers whose splendid abilities are recognized in the most substantial way. It might be modestly suggested right here that the more than thirty years' service of Colonel Ed Cushing in building railroads in Texas would furnish a more interesting theme than the libelous thrusts at the great institution which he and thousands of others are proud to call by the endearing term of alma mater.

The very small number of graduates who have entered professions other than those for which they were trained and educated have reached positions of distinction and usefulness in the world. Pink Downs, the banker of Temple, renders a service to the agricultural interests of his section of the state of more real value than ten thousand "statement" manufacturers. The Agricultural and Mechanical college is the mother of only five preachers, and in the providence of God the services of one of them alone, Dr. Edgar Young, president of the Southern Baptist Theological college at Louisville, far exceeds the comprehension of man and can only be measured by eternity. He has no superior in his church on this continent, and very few if any equals. Just why God would come down to the Agricultural and Mechanical college for this great and good man will no doubt remain a mystery to the manufacturers of "statements."

A short while ago the University of Texas wanted a man to go at the head of its department of architecture. It had the world from which to select its man. It wanted a man that could put up against the best in the profession—a high and laudable purpose to be sure. It did not have far to go. An Agricultural and Mechanical graduate filled the bill to the queen's taste. Looking around over the world to get a man to take his place at the college, I was informed by the presidents of the great universities of America that maintain architectural schools that it would be difficult to find a man for the position; that the best architects were building houses, not teaching how to build them. Finally a man was discovered in Cleveland, Ohio, at the top of his profession who was induced to accept the place. He is an A. & M. graduate and so thoroughly accomplished in his profession that he has been elected a member of the American Institute of Architects. He held all the architectural students at the college, and the great work of producing house makers goes quickly and steadily on at this place of "great isolation."

Only 26 of our graduates entered the profession of law, bankers 34, merchants 26, and 31 physicians, a large majority of whom have been successful in a marked degree. All are a large measure to the rigid discipline and wise training received at the A. and M. college. In whatever position they are found, in the shop, on the ranch, in the mines or in the profession, they are self-assured, disinterested, with open cut ideas and things, submissive to law, men of the time, deeply interested in progress, loyal to principle and justice, unflinching in temper, inclination, education and occupation to engage in the pursuits designed by crafty men to injure legitimate commerce and trade, or to entrench themselves in a greedy educational institution, or the general usefulness of any class. They have been taught that the object of knowledge is not theory but application and utility. Not destruction, but constructive things. The main object of their study and research is to augment comfort to ameliorate the condition of man and to develop the material resources of the country. They are engaged in building railroads, canals, dams, irrigation plants, spanning the rivers with bridges, increasing the fertility of the soil, breeding better domestic animals, multiplying the conveniences of man, constructing sewer systems, thus extinguishing diseases, and in a thousand other ways improving material life and enlarging the conveniences and happiness of mankind.

Now, all this talk about consolidation grew out of a misfortune of the college which all true citizens deplore, and which none but the wilful and malicious would desire to use for the injury of the institution. It is hard to conceive that a rational man would find enjoyment in the memory of violated friendship, or consolation in the afflictions of his neighbor. Decency, it seems to me, ethics and all the attributes that should characterize refined and cultured people have been abandoned in this unholy campaign to destroy the only school in Texas designed to give industrial training to our boys. The sober thinking people of this state may tolerate and endure wrong for awhile, but when it assumes the form of a monster, shorn of all justice, and clothed in mockery and falsehood, they will resent it and resent it in the most emphatic and effective way.

R. T. MILNER.

CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS

THERE WERE APPROXIMATELY TWO THOUSAND IN SUNDAY SCHOOL PARADE.

Men, Women and Children Take Part. An Unusual Scene—Interesting to Spectators.

Two thousand men, women and children passed through the streets of Waco yesterday in parade, held in connection with the annual State Sunday School convention, in session in this city. It was a remarkable tribute to Christianity, and a wonderful demonstration of the perfection that has been attained for religious organization. Riding in automobiles, carriages and afoot, the long line of Sunday school workers formed an interesting cent to the thousands who lined the streets to view their happy little folk in autos, floats and walking lent an air of good cheer as they waved the banners of Christianity to the watching throngs.

It was an unusual scene. Denominational barriers were down. The followers of the Nazarene from every church and religious organization joined in the event, which brought realization of the great scope to which the Sunday school is extending. To say the scene was impressive is but a poor description. Gorgeous colors and flying banners were not present to render their air of festivity for the only form of decoration and show was the simple class banner, the white and red of the Bible student, the purple and white, and the small banners carried by the little folk. But the scene was impressive because of the radiant joy which beamed in the faces of the children being taught to follow "In His Steps," and evidence that the older men and women were proud to walk in honor of their belief.

All Classes in Parade. In the line were men well known in public and business life, women prominent in civic and educational uplift movements; also the man little known and the woman whose world may be considered small were there. The marching children came from all walks of life. The children of the rich man walked beside that of the poor. In one department of the parade were twenty-one Mexican children, members of the Sunday school of the Baptist mission at North Fourth street. These formed an interesting part, as they marched silently under the direction of their teacher, Senora Consuelo L. Arroyo.

The parade formed at Sixth and Washington streets, marching down Sixth to Franklin, up Franklin to Third, to Austin and on Austin to Sixth. At Sixth street the leaders met the tail end of the procession and the line was doubled to allow the marchers to pass.

A band led the march, followed by Sheriff S. S. Fleming, Chief of Police, Hollis Barron, Joke Buchanan, Frank Lazenby, George Barnard, Constable Leslie Stegall, Walter Lazenby, George Rotan and S. M. Ramsey, mounted on horseback, flying the colors of white and purple, who acted as marshals.

Following came an automobile containing Mayor J. H. Mackey and City Commissioners Gorman, Littlefield and Wright. Other machines followed, then came buggies, carriages and walking delegates and school children, after which a long line of vehicles followed. In the automobile of F. W. Simmons, Miss Elsie Sawyer and Miss Simmle Green, members of the Central Presbyterian Sunday school of Hillsboro.

Another machine contained J. P. Alexander and Miss Fay Bligh of Waco and Miss Agnes McGregor of Temple.

C. R. Turner and little Misses Willie Lee Groner, Almada Olenbach, Amelia Ella Turner and Edith and Ruth Franklin of the Columbus street church, Waco, were in a car, accompanied by Miss Clara Evans, teacher.

Mrs. W. N. Wiggins, wife of the state Sunday school secretary; Rev. Arthur E. Rector, of the First Methodist church, Galveston; Mrs. Frank J. Bell, Dallas, assistant superintendent-secretary of the secondary division; H. B. Goodman of Galveston, and

DON'T STAY GRAY! SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFULLY

A Mixture of Sage and Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. It is also splendid to remove dandruff, cure itching scalp and stop falling hair.

Preparing this mixture, though, at home is a messy and troublesome task. For about 50 cents a bottle you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Some druggists put this mixture up themselves, but make it too sticky, so insist you want "Wyeth's"; then there will be no disappointment.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning all gray hair disappears and after another application or two becomes beautifully darkened and more glossy and luxuriant than ever. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and you'll look years younger. Inquiry shows all pharmacists in town here sell lots of it.

NINE HOUR DAY MAY BE KILLED

HOUSE HAS SUBSTITUTED NEW MEASURE; SENATE MUST TAKE TIME ON IT.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING

Senate Members Are Practically Satisfied, but the House Is Claiming Other Concessions.

Austin, Tex., March 27.—The passage of a nine-hour work day bill for women was made very doubtful to-night when the lieutenant governor sustained a point of order by Watson that the house had substituted for the senate bill an entirely new measure which must run the gauntlet of the committee. In view of the fact that the session ends next Tuesday and the committee report must lay over a day and that there must also be a conference committee in all likelihood the bill is in serious danger. After the senate adjourned the committee on labor reported the bill favorably. The senate finally passed: Austin's bill making a liberal appropriation for the state department of labor statistics and allowing an extra inspector and statistician, house bill providing eight-hour work days on public works, guaranteeing to district and county surveyors a minimum of $5 a day for their services, Hudspeth's bill for the protection of Americans injured in foreign countries, which is practically a copy of the federal statute.

The house debated the bill to prevent removal of cases to federal courts by foreign corporations, but took no action. Both branches asked the railroad by resolution to grant low rates to visitors to the Gettysburg anniversary.

Senate amendments to the bill creating the state school for delinquent girls were concurred in and the bill putting into effect six year terms for members of the state educational boards was passed to a third reading.

Redistricting Bill.

Members of the senate committee on congressional redistricting had practically reached an agreement to-night. Members of the house committee were not agreeing to the senate bill and were asking a few more concessions.

The senate was considering two propositions with regard to Galveston—one to place it in the Harris county district and the other to leave it in its present district, but loud the upper end to the satisfaction of W. J. Townsend. The idea of placing it with Beaumont has been abandoned and it is proposed to run the Harris county district up toward Walker county.

There is a hang up in the Travis county districts and Fayette county may be placed in it. There is general dissatisfaction in the house with the district given Congressman James Young, a gerrymander being claimed there.

Likewise friends of Congressman W. R. Smith are insisting that Nolan, Coke and Runnels county adjoining Mitchell county shall be placed in Smith's district. At present Colial county has been placed in the Bexar county district and Hays in the Travis county district. Friends of Congressman Smith want to take out a little more of the lower territory from the El Paso district.

It was said by one member of the house committee that an agreement can be reached with the majority of the house committee if the senate will make one or two little concessions.

IN THE HOUSE.

Austin, March 27.—The house, after passing a criminal 9:30 closing act yesterday, today adopted the free conference committee report on the civil act closing the saloons at 9:30 in lieu of the Kennedy bill, the vote being 94 to 24, with seven present and not voting. The free conference committee report was signed by only four members of the house, and Kennedy protested, saying that he had not been notified of the committee meeting.

Somebody declared that there was more than a 9:30 closing bill in the conference report and Allison absolutely denied this, saying that it merely pledged the liquor dealer to obey all other laws. This bill, he also said, Governor Colquitt would approve.

The house adopted a resolution that no more house bills will be passed at this session of the legislature; finally passed the bill creating the Willow Grove independent school district in McLennan county; concurred in senate amendments to the bill authorizing the issuance of $2,000,000 penitentiary bonds to pay off the debts of the prison system, adopted the free conference committee report on the bill authorizing cities to sell park properties to railroads and heard a petition from students of the A. & M. College condemning the plan to consolidate the University with their institution.

The house senate bill to raise salaries of district judges and finally passed these senate bills: Collins 54-hour per week, or nine-hour per day bill, affecting women; Warren's extending time within which corporations may pay delinquent franchise taxes; Collins, requiring contracting stevedores to operate under bonds; Willacy's preventing cruelty to animals; Johnson's local option pool hall measure; Greer's making it a misdemeanor to leave a dead animal within 500 yards of a private residence on a road or street; Lattimore's regulating fraternal beneficiary societies; McGreggor's abolishing the anti-tuberculosis commission and providing in its stead a citizens' commission; Hudspeth's reorganizing the Thirtieth, Fifty-first, Sixty-third and Seventieth judicial districts, and creating the Seventy-fifth; exempting taken from Galveston Island and used in extending the Galveston sea wall, from taxation.

The house also passed to third reading the Hudspeth bill providing that the El Paso and Southwestern may consolidate, the El Paso & Northeastern, and the Hudspeth general mining law, which is practically the same bill as the house passed for Burges and Harris, but which the senate has not yet gotten to.

The house also passed to third reading the Hudspeth bill providing that the El Paso and Southwestern may consolidate, the El Paso & Northeastern, and the Hudspeth general mining law, which is practically the same bill as the house passed for Burges and Harris, but which the senate has not yet gotten to.

IN THE SENATE.

Austin, March 27.—The senate set Friday morning for the consideration of the Burges-Gilcock irrigation bill. The senate finally adopted the resolution submitting a constitutional amendment to allow Confederate pensions to those coming to Texas since 1906, finally adopted the Townsend resolution providing an amendment to make the terms of prison commissioners six years, denied the request of the house for permission to take up the joint resolution for the divorce of the University of Texas and the A. & M. College at once.

The senate today passed finally the Usery pistol toting bill in such form that it is practically the same as the present law, the felony provision being stricken out; passed to a third reading the house bill agreed on in committee which limits the fees of county and district officers in the state in such a way as to more nearly put them on a salary basis after many attempts to amend it had failed, with Senator Carter protesting all amendments.

The house bill providing for the establishment of a home for dependent girls was passed, the senate bill by Hudspeth being substituted for the house bill. No appropriation is made, the finance committee being left to take care of this. A bonus for the location of the institution is welcomed.

Free conference committee reports on the bogus check bill were adopted and the joint resolution by Nugent proposing by constitutional amendment to place members of the legislature on a basis of $2000 a term was finally adopted.

Hudspeth's bill providing that unrecorded cattle brands shall not constitute evidence of ownership, the house bill creating a marketing bureau in the department of agriculture and a bill requiring commission merchants to give bond also were finally passed.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

Both House and Senate Adopt Free Conference Report.

Austin, Tex., March 27.—By a vote of 5 to 3 the senate committee on senatorial districts today postponed indefinitely action on all senatorial redistricting bills. This means that there will be no senatorial redistricting at this session.

No further progress was made apparently in congressional redistricting, although the conferences here and there continued.

The house and senate both adopted minor bills which sent into the legislature committee which sent into the legislature the nine-thirty closing instead of the Kennedy bill, Representative Kennedy protesting. The house also passed the nine-thirty closing bill affecting the criminal provisions of the law, which had come from the senate. Both of these bills will go to the governor and finally the Kennedy bill itself may be reported and sent to him. He can take his choice.

The Lattimore crab bill, which required every place selling liquor to be marked "licensee's saloon," was passed to a third reading in the house also.

BURKES TO BE WACO DEPUTY

Sergeant at Arms of House Is to Attend Federal Court Here.

Austin, Tex., March 27.—Charles P. Burkes, sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, was today notified of his appointment as deputy United States marshal under Captain J. H. Rogers, the newly appointed marshal of this district. His headquarters will be Waco. Mr. Burkes has been connected with the legislature for several sessions, succeeding Sebe Newman as sergeant-at-arms. His home is in Belton, Bell county.

Ninth Court Created.

Austin, March 27.—With Representative Cooper leading the fight, and with Representative Bruce of Orange and D. W. McNeill of San Antonio rendering valuable assistance, the senate bill creating a ninth court of civil appeals at Beaumont finally was passed and it remains for Governor Colquitt to see whether it will or will not become a law. The bill was introduced some time ago that he would not approve such bills when a delegation of the Houston Bar association waited on him with regard to a Houston court.

WACO NORMAL BILL PASSES

Governor Vetoes One School, and Now Another One Is Put Up to Him.

Austin, Tex., March 27.—Governor Colquitt today vetoed the bill by Brelford of the senate creating a Central West Texas normal in the Brelford senatorial district. The veto was made on the ground that the state should not develop the four normals it has now rather than spread out with more of them.

It was not many minutes after the veto message had been read that the house bill establishing a central Texas normal at Waco was reached on the senate calendar. There was jesting and laughter, but Senator Terrell insisted on the passage of his bill, saying that the Waco normal bill carries a donation of $100,000, instead of an appropriation. The bill was finally passed by a vote of 19 to 5. Governor Colquitt stated to the correspondent some time ago that he would veto all bills creating new normals. It remains to be seen what the result of the Waco bill will be.

Quarantine Proclamation.

Austin, March 27.—Governor O. B. Colquitt today set forth in a proclamation quarantine laws to be observed along the entire border of the state. All officials, military authorities and citizens of Texas are solicited to assist the quarantine officers in the execution of the rule. The governor also earnestly requests every person to notify him of any dereliction of duty by officers or employees, or any other facts that will give greater efficiency to the quarantine service. The quarantine becomes effective April 1.

Dr. Abbott Due in Waco.

Austin, March 27.—Dr. Abbott, state pure food and drug commissioner, left here today for Waco, Dallas and other cities in that locality on an inspection trip. Several prosecutions were enforced in Dallas on a recent trip for allowing fruits, candies, etc. to be sold unprotected from the dust, dirt, flies, etc.

The Theatres

"Madame X."

"Madame X." had a very receptive audience at the Auditorium yesterday, at least for the matinee performance. It is a well-known fact that cold feet are conducive to that nervous state wherein the tears are all ready to overflow at the least provocation. As everybody in the theatre undoubtedly had one cold foot (many odd feet being kept warm by a time-honored method of the feminine gender), Madame experienced little difficulty in causing much weeping.

The great mother story received a competent presentation. Many people who had but little sympathy for other players may have been disappointed in the cast in its entirety, but it must be admitted that "Madame X." retains its human interest, its intense dramatic qualities even in the absence of a really strong cast.

While there are a number of attractions booked for the Auditorium during the next week or so, "Madame X." marked the close of the theatrical season proper at the big theatre.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face May Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use othine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles is the discovery of an eminent skin specialist, and is so uniformly successful that it is sold by Powers-Kelly Drug Co. under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

DEPARTMENTS OF U. S. GOVERNMENT EXTEND MUCH AID

Washington, March 27.—President Wilson today threw open the resources of the federal government to the homeless thousands fighting against water, flames and famine in Ohio and Indiana.

More than $350,000 already has been expended, and the president is determined that no red tape shall stand in the way of instant relief everywhere.

Secretary Garrison of the war department left today on orders from the president to survey the situation in Ohio and direct the government's relief expeditions and Mr. Wilson announced that if communication with the flood districts continued imperious and the presence of the chief executive was required to issue emergency executive orders, he would go to the zone of the disaster himself.

The president did little else today besides his work on the flood situation and is ready to set aside other business before he to assist the authorities of Ohio and Indiana.

Tomorrow the entire situation will be canvassed by the cabinet. Postmaster General Burleson is contemplating a quick journey to Ohio if the mail situation is not soon improved. Mail routes across the continent are badly affected and the task of disentangling the mail service to points in Ohio and Indiana untouched by floods has reached a crisis. Assistants are being ordered to the flood region from nearby cities and stamps and supplies are being rushed to places which have lost their stock in the floods.

Not only were the war and post-office departments straining every effort to be of assistance, but the navy department issued orders to its recruiting stations in the central west to send its marines, physicians and officers trained in rescue work to cooperate with the army medical staffs. Power boats and skiffs were dispatched from naval stations on the great lakes.

Lifeguards Get Orders.

Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department sent Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States public health service to the flood districts and placed at the disposal of the governors of Ohio and Indiana all United States life saving stations in those states. Secretary McAdoo also waived customs regulations so that the relief supplies could enter free from Canada.

Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce, ordered all available boats in the light house service near the Ohio river to take part in the relief work.

Red Cross Gives Aid. But while every government department did its utmost, the bulk of the day's orders came from the war department and the Red Cross, which organization distributed its agents and nurses throughout the afflicted territory.

With Secretary Garrison went Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army. Quartermaster General Alshire and a staff of officers, physicians and surgeons. Signal corps detachments consisting of Major Edward Russell, master signal electricians and operators, joined the party at the last moment.

MAYOR MAKES APPEAL.

Cincinnati Official Declares $500,000 Is Needed. Cincinnati, March 27.—Mayor Henry T. Hunt of this city has issued an appeal to the people of the United States asking aid for the flood sufferers in the Miami valley. The appeal follows:

"Cincinnati is exhausting herself in an attempt to feed 75,000 starving people in the Miami valley. We must have financial and material assistance. Every city should appoint a relief committee to raise money and purchase supplies and forward both to us. Five hundred thousand dollars would not be enough to care for the situation. I will be responsible for the proper distribution of supplies and expenditures of money. This city is doing its utmost and the need is greater than it can supply. Let every generous American aid us as we would aid him if he were in our condition."

Major John A. Logan Jr. of the quartermaster's department at Washington arrived here today to organize relief work for Dayton. Under his direction a special train was made up at Kenova, W. Va., which will be in charge of other army officers. An effort will be made to take this train into Dayton by way of Columbus, but it is feared it will not reach its destination.

Major Logan already has ordered army tent blankets, etc. from St. Louis and other army depots to be sent to Cincinnati. He proposes to establish a line of communication from here to Dayton, and if needed the engineering department is prepared to build temporary bridges across streams where the bridges have been washed away.

Immediately on his arrival Major Logan consulted with Mayor Hunt to ascertain what relief measures had been taken. Mayor Hunt telegraphed Major General Leonard Wood at Washington, asking him to be prepared to send military assistance in case of flood at Cincinnati. He asked particularly for tents, cots and blankets.

Throughout the day trolley cars laden with food, clothing and filtered water were sent from here into the flood district. They were dispatched by the general relief committee.

GIANTS WIN OVER WACO NAVIGATORS

HEAVY HITTING AND WILD BASE RUNNING BY YANNIGANS THE FEATURE.

EXTRA BASE HITS COME FAST

Final Score 12 to 5—Lohman Was Slaughtered in First Five Innings.

Baseball Program for This Week.
New York Giants today at Katy park at 3:30.
Baylor and Waco Saturday at 3:30.
Fort Worth and Waco Sunday at 3:30.

The San Antonio team will be here for two games April 2 and 3.

Heavy hitting in the first two innings, coupled with loose playing, clinched the first of a series of two games between the New York Giants yanigan team and the Waco Navigators and the yanigans walked away with the contest in easy fashion 12 to 5.

The game was played at Katy park before a small crowd even for an exhibition game. The Giants arrived here early yesterday and immediately went to the hotel where they remained until an hour before the game. The players are in charge of McCormick, and he has the choice lot of the youngsters and a sufficient number of the regulars to hold the team together.

The lineup of the Giants was somewhat different from the team that came over from Marlin two weeks ago and won from the Navigators 13 to 1. Instead of playing Thorpe at first base he was shifted to center field and he guarded that territory neatly, although he showed bad in the practice and weak with the stick compared to what the other New Yorkers accomplished. Fletcher was there with the flashy stuff at short. He covered across of ground and knocked down a hit in the third inning that looked to be an impossibility.

The game was a slugfest from the start. McGraw's men annexed sixteen safe hits, four two-baggers and one homer. The Navigators were not weak with the stick in the latter part of the game, getting in all twelve safe hits, one a two bagger. Smith started the game for the Giants and worked well for five innings, allowing one run and five scattered hits. He was supplanted by Schrupp, a seven-bagger, who was touched for seven singles, which, coupled with ragged fielding, netted Carson's men four tallies.

Lohman started the game for Waco and worked five innings. He was touched for thirteen hits and ten scores were made while he was performing. Platzke was more lucky and got away by allowing only two really safe hits and one scratch hit. Errors were responsible for one of the runs made while he was working.

The game started fifteen minutes late. Groh walked and came home on Cooper's single to left. Thorpe singled to left, scoring Cooper. Fletcher singled to left, advancing Thorpe who stole third. McCormick struck out. Robertson clouted the sphere over the right field fence for a home run. Stock was out at first. Hartley singled to left and was out when Smith grounded to Duguey at second. McMahon took the throw to catch Hartley. The first three men up for Waco were easy outs, although Beck singled to the infield and was caught at second on a double play.

The Giants started the second round when Groh beat out a hit down the third base line. Cooper sent him to second with a single to left and Thorpe grounded to Lohman. Cooper was out at second. Fletcher scored Groh and Thorpe on a single to right. The Giants circled the bases very rapidly. McCormick filed out to Crichelow and Robertson was out on a grounder to Wohlehaben. Waco was retired in one-two-three order.

Stock was an easy out in the third. Hartley singled to left. Smith walked.

Baylor Whips Austin College In Slugging Feast, 18 to 1

Presbyterians Worked Three Pitchers to Stop Baptists and Gave Ragged Support Throughout One-Sided Contest.

The Austin College team of Sherman blew up in the second game with Baylor University at Carroll field yesterday and the Baptists handily won 18 to 1 and would have given the Presbyterians a whitewashing save for a brace of errors in the eighth inning, coupled with a base on balls.

Before the game was very old it developed that the Sherman boys were badly whipped. Baylor annexed one score in the first inning and piled up five in the sixth. Rich was sent in to work for Parks in the middle of the second and started off good in the third. He kept the Baylorites scoreless for three innings and grabbed the guy rope of the balloon himself in the sixth when Baylor scored five runs. He was supplanted by Biggs, who had been playing third, and Pendergast was sent in to cover the sunny corner of the diamond. He got away luckily in the seventh so far as hits were concerned, but ragged playing and free transportation were responsible for two scores. In the eighth the Presbyterians walked all to pieces. Richards at first base made three errors and the infielders could not get their hands on the ball, allowing five more scores.

The game was featureless save for the heavy hitting of Baylor team in the first part of the game. McMahon went around the bases on a drive to deep center, and in the third inning he got a triple to the same territory. Belew and Smith doubled, and Emory and Mendenhall ran wild on the bases, each stealing two.

Henry was going good the seven innings he worked and held the enemy scoreless and was very sparing with hits, allowing two safe bingles. Robertson worked the last three innings and the visitors should not have scored. Misplays were responsible, although the Presbyterians hit safe in the ninth inning, and the rally

Groh singled to right and Hartley came home when Renard failed to field the ball cleanly. Smith walked and Groh and Cooper were out on high flies. Duguey was the first man up for Waco. He doubled to left, Crosby singled by Fletcher at short. Lohman hit a long fly to Thorpe and Duguey scored. McLourin was an easy out.

The batting average of McCormick and Robertson was fattened in the fourth. Both doubled to the outfield. Stock boosted the score by singling to center. Hartley, Smith and Groh were easy outs.

Lohman tightened up in the fifth inning and only three men faced him. Crosby singled in the last half, but was thrown out at second. A walk, stolen base, coupled with an error, gave the Giants another run in the sixth, and with two out in the seventh Fletcher doubled to center and came home on McCormick's single to left. McMahon singled to left in the last of the eighth. McLourin singled to left. Wohlehaben grounded to Schrupp and McMahon was forced at third. Renard walked. Crichelow singled to right, scoring McLourin and Wohlehaben. Duguey hit to Schrupp and was out at first. Rellly scored Renard and Crichelow with a single to left. Platzke singled to right. Smith grounded to Duguey at second. McMahon took the throw to catch Hartley. The first three men up for Waco were easy outs, although Beck singled to the infield and was caught at second on a double play.

The Giants started the second round when Groh beat out a hit down the third base line. Cooper sent him to second with a single to left and Thorpe grounded to Lohman. Cooper was out at second. Fletcher scored Groh and Thorpe on a single to right. The Giants circled the bases very rapidly. McCormick filed out to Crichelow and Robertson was out on a grounder to Wohlehaben. Waco was retired in one-two-three order.

Stock was an easy out in the third. Hartley singled to left. Smith walked.

stopped before the runner got to second.

The crowd was much larger than at the first game with the Baylor team Wednesday, and was played under more favorable weather conditions. Baylor plays the Waco Navigators Saturday at Katy Park.

Cassius Was Slim Long and Lean: So are Baseball Twins

"Lefty" Weidman has a rival in major baseball. He is Jack Frost of the Cincinnati Reds. It may be that Cassius had a "lean and hungry look," but Cass didn't have a thing on the lathy twins, Weidman of the Browns, and Frost of the Reds. The fans who saw Weidman in uniform while the Browns were training here were certain that he would cop the bunting for length, and he has so far.

Weidman is the tallest exhibit in baseball, being six feet six inches tall, while the Cincinnati is the National league's longest, being an inch under the six and a half mark.

Something more than managerial ingenuity is required to provide Weidman and Frost with sleeping accommodations on the road. Never was a sleeping berth long enough for a six-footer.

Frost made Bancroft, the veteran business manager of the Reds, happy the first day he blew into camp by agreeing to look out for himself. "Just get me a berth and leave the rest to me," Frost said. "I'll hang my feet out at the window if necessary, and if I catch a couple of sacks of mail it won't be my fault."

Frost and Weidman are both thin as a drink of water, but both have enough "ther" to encourage them to believe that they are destined to shine on both league diamonds. Weidman, in fact, has shone in the American league and Frost reckons on throwing some shadow when the sun is low enough.

Managers as a rule like big pitchers, because as a general thing they have plenty of speed when they unkindly rather expensive propositions to keep in uniform with a wool tariff in effect.

The Human Machine the Most Wonderful of All Mechanisms.

What are you doing to keep this delicately adjusted and miraculous apparatus in continuous working order? Do you take into consideration your mental state and how that state is produced by what you eat, drink and with whom you associate?

We are now passing the age of voodooism, medicine men, charms and superstition and are on the threshold of a machine civilization. Such medicines as we keep in modern homes will be poured into the sewers in a few months. Our doctors will call to find out what we eat and drink; in that they may not have to call to guess what is the matter with us.

The human body is a first cousin to a railroad locomotive, the stomach is the fire box (fuel) that can't be used in a locomotive fire box without burning it out. There is some water that can't be used in the boiler without forming scale. So it is with the human machine or locomotive. There is some kind of food (fuel) that can't be used in the human fire box (the stomach) and some kind of water that cannot be used in the human boiler, because it makes a scale in the veins or causes the boiler to burn out. Why not consider this when ordering a drink at the soda fountain, and order Dr. Pepper. We don't want a mortgage on your stomach. Dr. Pepper is the best body fuel. It is liquid energy. It is the drink to produce steam. Try it and be convinced.

LAST REGULAR DRIFTS IN

Ogle Reports to Carson at Close of School, and Is in Good Condition.

"Who is the guy in a white uniform and a brown sweater?" was the question one fan asked another yesterday when he spied a new man working out with the Navigators, but this question was not asked by the old fans who know the faces of every player who has performed on the local lot. It was Ogle.

The school teacher, who has been tutoring pupils in DeSoto county, has quit teaching the children and has reported to Carson in good condition, but will not be able to take his place in the box until the beginning of the season. Ogle says he is healthy and has been working out every day.

IN COTTON MARKET

CLOSE BARELY STEADY AT 2 TO 5 POINTS LOSS ON THURSDAY'S MARKET.

Cold Wave Over Texas Has Influence In Early Deals—Decrease Gradual.

New York, March 27.—There was a renewal of yesterday's buying movement at the opening of the cotton market this morning, but prices later eased off, closing barely steady at a net decline of from 2 to 5 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 2 to 5 points and the market sold 1 to 10 points net higher during the early trading in response to relatively firm cables, reports of an increased continental interest, further rains in the eastern belt, low temperatures in southwest Texas and continued apprehensions of floods in the Mississippi valley.

The advance of about 20 to 25 points from the low level of the month was followed by profit taking and as prices eased off the bear pressure became more active, owing to reports of a slack spot demand from New Orleans and apprehensions that the disasters in the middle west would have an unfavorable effect on the textile trade.

Closing prices were at practically the lowest of the day. Reports from San Antonio, Texas, said that young cotton in that vicinity had been killed and would have to be replanted.

New Orleans, March 27.—The cotton market was very steady during the early part of the day's session, but in the afternoon scalping longs were heavy sellers to realize profits and the market fell off until all of the advance had been wiped out and replaced by a net decline. The market was moderately active, although business came principally from professional traders.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 4 points. Cables were favorable and the weather map reflected more rain in the cotton belt. In addition frost and freezing were reported in the extreme eastern belt while the forecast predicted colder weather for the entire belt. In the early trading prices went 4 to 5 points over yesterday's close. This advance did not hold any too well because many operators held that the forecast of fair weather balanced the more unfavorable features of the map. At noon prices were at a net advance of 1 to 3 points.

In the afternoon the market gradually weakened, as buyers of the last few days increased their offerings, and finally the trading months went 7 to 9 points under the last quotations of yesterday. The market closed steady at the lowest of the day.

IN WHEAT MARKET

PRICES DROP ON REPORTS OF SUPPLY OF SPRING SEED.

Corn, Oats and Provisions Also Take Downward Course, but Latter Partially Recovers.

Chicago, March 27.—Discovery that the government report on farm reserves of wheat does not disclose spring seed requirements which are 27,000,000 bushels, caused general selling today and sent the market down. The close was weak at a net loss of 1/4c to 1 1/2c. Corn suffered a net loss of 1/4c, and oats 1/4c to 1/2c. Provisions closed to a shade lower to 10c higher. The wheat situation was influenced by the fact that millers who usually buy a great deal of their grain in this market, were holding off because the floods in Ohio and Louisiana were preventing shipments.

Conditions as to milling demand were aggravated by the fact that supplies of flour on millers were large because of the unusually heavy grinding of the last season by spring wheat millers.

Trade in corn today was almost entirely in local hands, the east not being a buyer because overstocked there and buyers in the more immediate neighborhood being cut off by floods. The absence of any short interest left oats with poor support.

The receipts of hogs were 4,000 less than a year ago and the demand for provisions was comparatively dull.

AMONG WHOLESALEERS

PEACH KILLING FREEZE DOES NOT AFFECT WHOLESALEERS SERIOUSLY.

All Expresses Pleasure at Having Had State S. S. Convention in This City.

Yesterday may be described as a steady day in wholesale circles rather than an active day, and a general air of something being prevailed. Heads of business spoken to yesterday were smiles and expressed themselves as well satisfied with the volume moving and in sight.

The freeze of yesterday is thought to have put the finishing touch on the East Texas fruit, and as several hydrants froze in Waco, it is probable that the freeze was sufficiently severe to kill the peaches. Local yard trees in whose breasts hope seems to spring eternal, cling to the idea that a few peaches will yet ripen on the trees.

Last year East Texas made too many peaches and got little for them; hence the freeze may prove a blessing in disguise by enabling those fortunate enough to make a few to get good returns for their time and trouble.

The freeze did not reach far enough south to reach the principal source of vegetable supply, and it is not thought that any decrease in supply or increase in price is likely to occur. The supply of cabbage seems inexhaustible and the price remains low.

Good apples are arriving constantly and the price remains steadily uniform. Very little celery is in evidence; in fact, celery time has passed by, but what is offered shows up well in appearance and quality.

Fresh tomatoes are in sufficient supply to meet the demand. Strawberries are cheaper. Yesterday they sold at $1.75 per crate; today Turner-Coffield advise that they will offer a shipment to arrive at $2.50. Whether they will go lower, and how much lower, is as yet a surmise.

No changes are mentioned in the prices of drugs, and while many staples of hardware show an upward tendency, no appreciable changes are reported.

The wholesale men of the city have taken a great interest in the State Sunday school convention in Waco the past few days, and the occasion has given them an opportunity to meet socially a large number of their friends from over Waco's vast trade territory. The News is pleased to voice the pleasure of the wholesale contingent over having the convention in this city.

Among the out-of-town merchants visiting the various wholesale concerns of the city yesterday may be noted:

Texas Needs More Hogs.

Fort Worth, March 27.—With local packers clamoring for more hogs; and offering top notch prices for Texas porkers, comes the report from the federal government that the swine head of Texas has decreased 5,000 head during the past year. The crop report, issued by the United States department of agriculture estimates the number of head of hogs in Texas at 2,433,000 on January 1, which is a decrease under 1912 of 2 per cent. The farm price is given at $2.94,600 which is an increase during the past year of $1,614,000 or 36 per cent. The average price of the Texas hog has jumped from $6.30 each in 1912 to $8.40 in 1913 and the daily market quotations indicate a continued increase. The total fresh pork requirement of Texas is approximately 140,000,000 pounds per annum and the production is only 80,000,000 pounds. On a per capita basis we produce in Texas 20 pounds of pork per annum, while the consumption is thirty-five pounds. Texas imports for home consumption approximately $52,000,000 of meats and provisions per annum, the bulk of which are pork products.

IN THE STOCK MARKET

MARKET IS HEAVY AND SPIRIT-LESS AND PRICES DROP.

Final Changes Show Net Losses of About a Point for Many Leading Issues.

New York, March 27.—Speculative operators were active on a small scale today and the market was heavy and spiritless. Covering on the rise earlier in the week apparently had weakened the technical position of the market and prices dropped. The market also felt the lack of support from abroad.

While it was impossible to form any clear idea as to the extent of property loss in the floods, reports of the enormous amounts involved contributed largely to the heaviness of the list.

Final changes showed net losses of about a point for Reading, Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central, Steel, Smelting and other important issues. Some low prices were made during the day. Rumely slumped to 41 and Illinois to 113 1/2, its low figure since 1907.

Bonds were irregular.

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Alderman Who Is Manager of Electric Light Company Cannot Sell Lights to Town.

Austin, March 27.—The attorney general's department has issued the following opinions:

The city attorney of Mount Vernon was advised that in order to be eligible to the office of city marshal a person must be a resident citizen within the corporate limits a sufficient length of time to be a qualified elector therein.

The authorities at Gainesville were advised that it would be unlawful for a city alderman as such to make any kind of a contract on behalf of the city in which company the alderman is personally interested; that where an alderman makes a contract with the light plant to make a contract with the city for furnishing lights would violate Article 376 of the penal code and subject himself to removal from office.

County attorney at Hemphill, Texas, was advised that where a party is convicted for a misdemeanor and makes affidavit that he is not able to pay the fine and costs adjudged against him, is not entitled as a matter of right to a convict bond. If the county in which he was convicted owns or operates a poor farm, the authorities could convict the convict on the farm, or they could work him on the public roads, or other public works of the county, or they could hire him out on a convict bond. It is left to the discretion of the authorities as to which method prescribed by the statute will be pursued in the case of the collection of the judgment. In no case, however, can a county convict be worked longer than one year on one money judgment, and that if the fine and costs in any one case exceeds the amount the convict works out in a year he is nevertheless entitled to be released at the expiration of the twelve months and the balance of the fine and costs remaining unpaid will be lost to the county and officers, provided, of course, it cannot otherwise be made by execution.

County judge at Lamesa was advised that under an act of the present legislature, approved March 17, amending the law with reference to the incorporation of cities and towns and villages under the commission form of government, that any city or town in the state with a population of over one thousand and less than five thousand, or any unincorporated town or village with a population of more than two hundred and less than one thousand may incorporate under the commission form of government, and that there shall be an election at the same time the vote is taken on the question of incorporation, at which a mayor and two commissioners shall be elected, and that the same election officers may hold both elections; but there should be separate ballots, separate boxes, and separate returns to each election; that the person receiving the highest number of votes for mayor would be elected and that the two persons receiving the highest number of votes for commissioners would be elected.

County authorities of Armstrong county were advised that there is no provision of law that would prohibit the commissioners' court from applying money belonging to the road and bridge fund to work on the streets of an incorporated city or town; that it is contemplated by the law that where funds are raised by taxation for any specific purpose such as that raised for road and bridge purposes, that the same may in the judgment of the commissioners' court be distributed equally throughout the county, and if they see fit to appropriate a portion of the funds to the improvement of the streets of an incorporated city there is no legal objection to their doing so.

Sunday School Workers Have Day of Features

Parade of Christian Soldiers in the Afternoon Proved An Interesting and Unusual Event, Thousands Viewing It.

REV. J. T. MCCLURE, DALLAS, PRESIDENT

Other Officers Are Elected—Interesting Sermon at Noon On Sunday School Work—Night Session Is Packed—Big Banquet at Floral Hall Tonight.

By Sumner M. Ramsey.

Culminating in the election of officers in the convention hall where all the 3,200 seats were filled, the alikes packed with chairs, and the walls, in balconies and main auditorium, lined three deep with people, while barricades of chairs with an usher on top blocked the entrances to the First Baptist church to prevent hundreds of disappointed people from getting within, Thursday proved the greatest convention day the Texas Sunday School association, in session here, has ever known.

The outstanding features of the day were the election as president of the organization of Dr. J. T. McClure, of Dallas, who is now ill at his home, when Robert H. Coleman, president for four terms, refused to have his name considered for a fifth; a monster parade in the afternoon, in which more than 2,000 people joined in a great demonstration; the arrival in the morning of two special trains bearing a delegation of 1,000 from Bell county, alone, and an address in the evening by Dr. P. H. Welshimer, pastor of the First Christian church of Canton, Ohio, who told "How one Sunday school grew from a membership of 200 to a membership of 4,300."

This is the fourth and last day of the convention. Morning and afternoon sessions, as upon the two previous days, will be held, with a combined love feast and a feast of those things which delight the inner man from 6 until 10 o'clock this evening will be the concluding and only especially arranged social feature of the convention. More than 500 are expected to attend the banquet at Floral Hall at the Cotton Palace.

That the attendance on the convention up to last night has been greater than ever before in its history and that the registration, for the period covered, is in excess of any previous convention, was stated last night. Not a single hitch has occurred to mar the work through oversight or "undersight" of the local committees, of which W. H. Sanger was chairman.

Election of Officers. The new officers of the organization, placed in nomination last evening and unanimously elected, are as follows: President, Rev. J. T. McClure, Dallas.

L. Lloyd, Stephenville; Paul O. Nafe, El Paso; Rev. W. R. Preston, San Marcos and J. A. Coswell, Bullard.

Following the announcement of these committees the large delegation from Bell county which had filled the rear of the main auditorium of the church and three of the balconies, was recognized by the convention. All arose to their feet and gave the chautauqua salute, waving their handkerchiefs.

Last on the program for the morning service was the giving of a heart to heart Bible message by Dr. W. Irving Carroll.

Noon Session.

That the motion picture can be made a force for beneficial instruction in the Sunday school and church because its illustrations are more forcible than mere oral instruction, and that the picture rightly used it proving of great benefit in Sunday school work, was the statement of Rev. P. H. Welshimer, pastor of the Christian church, Canton, Ohio, at the round table meeting of officers, teachers and superintendents of Sunday school at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday at noon. He opposed, however, the motion picture show, asserting that while many of the pictures were good and beautiful, the majority were suggestive of things which should not be shown.

Rev. Welshimer is conducting the round table each day during the Sunday School convention. He does this in question by answering questions. Possibly a hundred questions concerning the better way of conducting a Sunday school were propounded to him yesterday by the two hundred persons in attendance. As an answer to some of these questions he advocated:

Let the pastor and teacher get acquainted with each member of his class. Should the church member remove to another city write the pastor of his church where he has taken his new home asking him to call on the man.

Select the best teacher always; when you get a teacher who doesn't get proper results have a confidential talk with him.

Have a teachers' meeting every week, organize a teachers' club and have a president and committees to seek ideas for instruction.

To hold the attention of boys: fifteen years, get as many as possible to attend. He asked, "Did you ever see a boy who wanted to attend a ladies' social circle?" He said the boy wanted to be a man and mingle with men.

He advocated special features each Lord's day, especially in the junior department. To hold the attention of the class, he said, invite them, saying many a man who would attend these classes was never asked. Invite them and if they come give them something to do.

For large Bible classes he advocated the card index system to show attendance, and he encouraged the use of prizes and the reward plan. He recommended teaching by lectures and questions combined, advocated that the pastor teach, and said there was a good opportunity for someone to write a book on the preacher and Bible work.

Another advocated the motion picture for Bible work, did not favor taking the class to the regular motion pictures.

In conducting prayer meetings he said it was advisable to have a different leader, either man or woman, each meeting night.

Appoint them a month in advance and let them have charge of the meeting. To bring the Sunday school scholars into the church he said it was advisable to try to reach them while they were in the junior and intermediate classes. He recommended personal work and said it was well to have a revival every year.

He favored Sunday school contests, when conducted properly, but warned against too great zeal as being apt to lead to unfair methods. He urged that each superintendent have as many visitors address his school as possible, stating this gives novelty. He sees no harm in applause in the Sunday school, saying, "I don't see anything wrong in applauding a good thing." He favors athletics in the Sunday school and recommends that each Sunday school have a baseball team.

He urged teachers to teach from the Bible and not the quarterly, and recommends classes be graded by age and not by what they know.

Rev. Welshimer will conduct this form of instruction during the convention.

Night Session.

So much trouble did the ushers have in keeping back the press of people who clamored for entrance to the great main auditorium of the First Baptist church last night after the church had been packed to capacity that the ushers of chairs were built about the doors and an usher perched himself at the top of each pile and said things—Sunday school words—into the chilly night. How many were turned away at the doors no one could estimate, least of all the ushers. They were kept too busy. The number, however, went into the hundreds.

The heating plant of the edifice was still out of commission, but nobody suffered from the cold. On the other hand it was soon necessary to open all the windows to let the cold air escape from the building.

Following the vesper prayer service and the song service, the latter led by Prof. E. O. Excell of Chicago, the nominating committee made its report, which was unanimously adopted. Then the new officers whose names they proposed being re-elected without a voice raised in opposition.

The first address of the evening was delivered by Rev. B. W. Spillman, his subject being "The Big Boy."

Rumor and hard facts driven home with force, the characteristics of every address he has delivered before the convention, brought forth laughter and serious thought in turn as Dr. Spillman continued his address. The peculiarities of the boy in his teens, and most successful methods to be employed in bringing him through to a life of purity and true manhood were the features which he brought out.

Briefly, he declared that boys are retiring and lonely during this period of their lives and the companionship of a few men, mentally and morally would do him good.

Impressable, the boy sees the black spot on the cardboard without seeing the white surface of the board itself, and black spots are likely to appear in his life unless his eyes are directed in the right way to the brighter surface and shown that it is pleasing to look at.

Of all things essential in the teaching of the boys is a real teacher. The teacher, he said, is of more importance, by his example, than his verbal teaching.

When the boy does get into the Sunday school he urged that he be kept track of always by those who are looking after his spiritual good, that a genuine interest be shown in the boy.

Following a song by the congregation led by Prof. Excell, the singing harmony fairly shaking the great church, came the taking up of the evening's offering, and an address by Rev. P. H. Welshimer.

Dr. Welshimer gave the "how" in connection with the building up of his own church Sunday school in Canton, Ohio, from a membership of 200 to 4300.

ONE THOUSAND FROM BELL.

Large Delegation From One County to the Convention.

One thousand strong, the largest delegation the county has ever sent to a convention of any sort, the Bell county contingents arrived at the convention hall in the First Baptist church between 10:30 and 11 o'clock in the morning, the two special trains which bore the parties from Rogers, Belton and Temple reaching the city several hours later than expected.

When the announcement was made that the delegates had arrived, Dr. W. C. Pearce, associate general secretary of the International Sunday School association, was speaking, and for a time he waited for the delegation to take seats. The seating of 1,000 people could not be done in a moment, however, and hence by request he continued his discourse.

Each delegate from Bell wore a simple convention button and the party was under the leadership of A. D. Crouch, chairman of the local transportation committee, and H. C. Glenn, D. K. Doyle, of the Temple Telegram, was with the party.

Streamers were raised above the seats of the delegates.

The delegation was cheered to the echo as it entered the convention hall and all the members of the convention arose and gave them the chautauqua salute.

PRAYER IS A NECESSITY

Rev. W. B. Riley Preaches at Columbus Street Baptist Church Revival.

Dr. W. B. Riley preached to a larger audience at the Columbus Street Baptist church last night than greeted him on the preceding night at the opening sermon of the revival services.

He did not choose a text, but his sermon had to do with "The Place of Prayer in Revival." He read from the first and second chapters of Acts, in regard to Pentecost. In part he said: "The world never knew a revival apart from prayer. If 100 people would pray ten days, it would bring about a sweeping revival. There are three things I note here, three principles—(1) The prayer, (2) Delivery of the sermon, (3) The results of prayer."

Peter was prepared by prayer. A preacher without a prayer-life is a failure. Prayer is power. A preacher must have this power. Also Peter prepared his sermon in prayer. Ten days in another room got him ready for the great sermon on Pentecost. The man who misses preparations through prayer misses it at all points. The people can tell whether the preacher is prayer-prepared.

Notice the delivery of this sermon. Peter, a common fisherman who never studied oratory or elocution, held the people spellbound—and that on the street. What was the secret of this mighty power? Answer, to prayer, I am sure. Preparation of self, of the sermon in hand, by prayer is necessary.

Peter preached in his native tongue, yet all the people of different tribes and nations understood him. How? There were some who had been in that upper room and were fitted with the prayer-spirit, and they spoke to groups. The most effective personal worker is not one who studies books on soul winning, as good as the books might be, or memorizes the most verses of Scripture, but the one who prays most. The law of the spiritual life, therefore, is prayer.

"Waiting upon God for answers to prayer is difficult, yet we must wait on Him for the victories. The ten days in the upper room were necessary waiting upon God and brought the results. Are we ready for God to dictate to us where to go, what to say, or to whom to speak?"

Another thing we should pray for is the individual. But some say we should have a new Gospel, but, no. The old Gospel is as sure as heaven. The thing we need to do is to put it into force by prayer. It will get the individuals."

Service will be held each evening at the church beginning at 8 o'clock.
